Park pool will open despite leaks

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The Wilson Park Swimming Pool will open this summer with full approval of the Department of Public Health, George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park Board, pledged during the regular meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club Thursday afternoon.

Despite problems with the 44-year-old pool, $30,000 in "temporary" repairs will bring the pool into compliance with state standards. "We met Tuesday (March 13) with officials of the Illinois Department of Health and they assured us they will unconditionally renew our license May 1. Structurally, the pool is sound and safe. It is just old and leaks. We lost several thousand dollars in water last year."

"HOWEVER, I'm convinced the Wilson Park Pool will open this summer and be used all summer," Sykes told the Optimists.

Sykes said the park commissioners have voted to calk the bottom joints of the pool for about $5,000 and replace the coping (top ledge around the pool) for about $10,000. Another $10,000 is expected to be spent to keep the outdated filtering system operating. The repairs will consume almost all of the $32,000 anticipated income at the pool this summer, the park president said.

He said the board will actively seek citizen input at public meetings soon on what to do about the long-term future of the pool. Options are major pool repairs, costing about $150,000; a new pool, costing about $700,000; continuing temporary repairs at about $30,000 a year; or closing the pool entirely and losing the approximately $32,000 a year the pool brings in.

A BOND ISSUE for a new swimming pool is probably out of the question, Sykes said. "People are understandably concerned about their taxes. The anti-bond issue attitude of six years ago is still prevalent. I don't personally think a bond issue would pass in Granite City. I think the people would tell us to close the pool rather than pass a bond issue," Sykes added.

"We have done some soul searching," he told the group. He said the board does not intend to come to the public with a proposal and seek support. Instead, the board will come to the public with an open mind and listen to the feelings of the citizens on the issue. "We'll ask, 'What do you want us to do?'"

He said the pool is not the only problem the park district faces. The Harold Brown Recreation Center needs a new $40,000 roof, the roof on the ice rink is 15 years old and is leaking, which will require repairs in excess of $50,000, new walks are needed in the gardens which will cost about $20,000.

The park district has an annual budget of only $800,000 to $900,000. After fixed expenses for personnel, insurance, vehicle maintenance, gasoline and other continuing costs, only $50,000 to $60,000 optimistically remains for major repairs and improvements, Sykes said. To continue to use $30,000 of that each year for pool repairs only detracts from the district's other facilities and programs, he noted.

THE deteriorating park facilities, along with a decline in the corporate replacement tax of nearly $100,000 a year from the level three years ago, forced the board to increase its tax assessment to the legal maximum on the taxes collected last summer. The increase brought tax receipts up from $350,000 the year before to $430,000 last summer.

That has given the board a chance to increase its reserves from about $140,000 going into the last fiscal year to approximately $160,000 at the end of the year, a figure Sykes feels is important "to remain in a positive cash-flow situation." A major problem at any of the three major or eight smaller parks in the district could wipe that out.

Although the park pool is using up a great deal of the parks' flexible cash, it is not serving the largest number of people of all park programs. The softball program has 2,000 participants, baseball 600, gymnastics draws 200 to 300 people and the Slimettes class has about 150 enrolled.

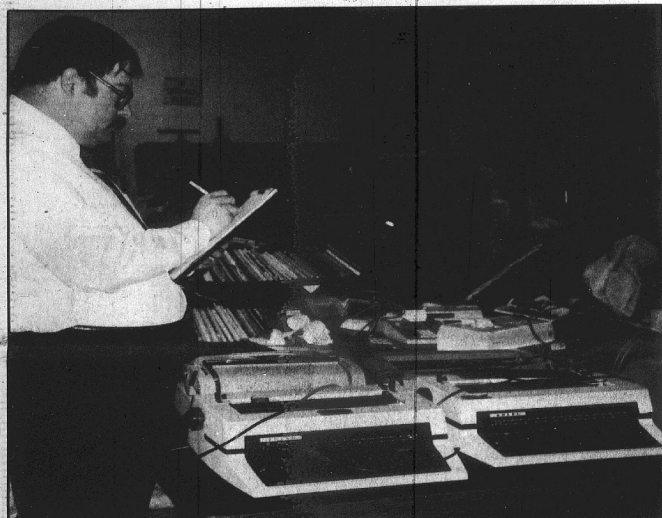

"WE'RE GOING to explore in all directions. We spent about $10,000 in major repairs to the pool in the last 10 years. We don't have that kind of money," he said.

Sykes concluded that he feels the swimming pool "is a valuable asset to our park system and our community. We just want to know how the people feel about our options."

GETTING 'PRINTED.' Ten-year-old Helen Hyster, a fifth grade student at the Venice Elementary School, has her fingerprints recorded by Venice Patrolman Daniel McKinney Friday morning. The Venice Lions Club sponsored the program and was aided by the local police department and the Illinois Secretary of State Police. Nearly 200 children from both the Venice public school and St. Mark parochial school were fingerprinted.

ONLY TWO TYPEWRITERS, two calculators and a $10,000 computer have been found from among major office equipment owned by the defunct Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission. The rest is being sought. H. Brent DeLand, executive secretary of the Illinois Association of Community Action Agencies, is shown taking inventory of the items recovered, thus far.

Large-scale looting of EOC offices noted

Police reports are expected to be filed tomorrow listing tens of thousands of dollars worth of property belonging to the defunct Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission as missing and believed stolen, according to Brent DeLand, executive secretary of the Illinois Association of Community Action Agencies (IACAA), the agency responsible for trying to recover the missing items.

Persons in possession of EOC property, money or records have been given until today to return them without being prosecuted. The Justice Department has convened a grand jury investigation into the EOC and may subpoena witnesses from as far away as Atlanta, Ga., to testify, DeLand said.

AT A news conference Thursday, DeLand showed some of the property recovered thus far, including two electric typewriters, two calculators and a $10,000 computer. "I am amazed that an agency that size had only two electric typewriters," DeLand said. "It appears the best of the equipment has been stolen or inadvertently taken by persons," he added.

Some items, including a $24,000 van, were being held by creditors in lieu of payment for purchases made by the former EOC. The creditor was convinced to give the van back.

DeLand said a lack of records is hampering his agency in determining what the EOC owned. For example, he said, not one desk lamp has been found in all the agency's offices.

WHAT RECORDS have been found are being screened by IACAA auditors and pertinent records are

ELECTION 1984

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Who should be the next president? Who would do the best job in the Senate and House? Who should serve in Madison County offices? Quad-Cities can help supply the answers by casting ballots between 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Considerable voting activity is being predicted here and statewide because of the intense competition for several nominations.

Chief negative factor affecting the size of the 1984 primary election turnout may be the fact that political parties for the first time will get lists of who asked for which ballot.

The Illinois Board of Elections sees 45 percent participation, with 2,700,000 votes statewide.

CROSSOVER voting Tuesday may be limited because both Democrats and Republicans have fierce battles between would-be U.S. Senate nominees.

Key points of interest here are: —Political committeemen races, including opposition for incumbents in nine precincts. After committeemen are elected and reorganize, County Democratic Chairman Christ Costoff of Madison may be challenged. Dr. Edward Ragdale of Alton is expected to be renamed county Republican chairman.

—Don Garrett's challenge of County Board Member Roderick Bauder, 90, Venice, in the District 23 Democratic primary. Garrett, 49, serves on the Madison City Council and Madison school board.

—REPUBLICAN rivalry between State's Attorney Don Weber, 36, Collinsville, and James Heil, 48, Godfrey, a former assistant prosecutor.

—Congressman Melvin Price's bid for a 21st consecutive Democratic nomination, contested by Mrs. Sandra Climaco, 32, Belleville, and Floyd Fessler Jr., 31, Bethalto. Price, 79, ranks second in U.S. House primary.

—Republican congressional competition between Robert H. Giffner, 51, Greenville, the Rev. Maurice

Agree on lead pile controls

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Taracorp Inc., a lead smelter and fabricating plant at 16th Street and Cleveland Blvd. will soon be required to hose down trucks leaving its gates, plant vegetation on its grounds and spray its 200,000-ton waste pile to control lead air pollution in the Quad-City area.

The requirements are part of five separate consent decrees signed Friday by Madison County Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson. Besides Taracorp, the agreements involve the owners of St. Louis Lead Recyclers, a lead-recycling business, and the Tri-City Truck

Chamber backs downtown plans

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce directors and its Downtown Promotion Committee gave a unanimous thumbs up to the newly-proposed Granite City downtown redevelopment concept.

The downtown business community was given a slide show and talk Friday in preparation for a council presentation April 3. The $20 million concept would be mainly financed by private investors and government programs.

Frank Ruder, senior planner for Peckham, Guyton, Alberts & Viets,

Inc., St. Louis, called the proposal a very flexible plan that could be stretched to accommodate any practical redevelopment plans. The cornerstone of the project would be the enactment by the council of a tax-increment financing district. Such an ordinance would include the rights to condemn property for new buildings and parking spaces.

Ruder does not plan to formally request the tax law until a private investor is ready to start with a major development project. "You need that one developer to create that area," he explained to the group that listened to his firm's proposal in the Chamber conference room.

Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, member of the mayor-appointed task force to study the proposal, asked for a volunteer from among the group to be the first to sponsor a new building project. There were no immediate takers.

According to Realtor Ralph Morris, the business community has its hands tied until new parking sites can be established downtown. Morris was the one that eventually made the motion for the Downtown Committee to support the project.

Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Bowler, another task force member, said the concept could be the driving force to unite the whole community. The alderman expressed enthusiasm for the project, and said he had observed other successful projects spearheaded by the Peckham firm.

The total area being studied encircles about 30 blocks taking in the downtown district, adjoining residential blocks and a potential 19-acre, light-industrial section, located between 16th and 18th streets.

The focal point would be a motel and shopping area, along Grand Avenue between 19th and 20th streets. Also being considered are apartment buildings at the sites of the former Emerson and McKinley schools and offices on Madison Avenue.

The project to be given priority will be the first one a private developer is willing to sponsor, according to Ruder.

Alcohol, cannabis possession is alleged

John G. Eitink II, 30, of Florissant, Mo., was arrested by Granite City police early Saturday morning and was charged with illegal possession of cannabis, illegal transportation of alcohol, driving with a suspended license and failure to appear in court on a warrant alleging no valid vehicle registration.

The charges were made after police allegedly found open cans of beer and a clear plastic bag containing marijuana in the front seat of the car.

A passenger in the car, Keith Norvell Krueger, 30, of Hazelwood, Mo., was charged with possession of alcohol. Krueger was released on a notice to appear.

Eitink was released on $250 cash.

WARRANT IS SERVED

Darrell L. Stafford, 24, of Cahokia, Mo., was served with a warrant alleging misdemeanor theft by the Granite City police Friday at the St. Clair County Jail. Stafford was transferred to the Madison County Jail via a military.

MOTEL AND SHOPPING COMPLEX. The drawing of the Granite City downtown area shows four basic development proposals suggested by a council-financed study conducted by Peckham, Guyton, Alberts & Viets, St. Louis. The numbered areas indicated the various development concepts. They are: one, an area along Grand Avenue where a motel, shops and parking lot could be located; two, a "Grand Plaza" site for shops, restaurants and parking spaces; three, a housing complex at the former McKinley School grounds; and, four, a two-story office building and parking area. The small dark circles, lining Niedringhaus Avenue, State Street and Madison Avenue, represent trees that could be planted to unify the redevelopment concept. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

4 gunshots fired

Four gunshots were fired into a bedroom window at 1303 Kirkpatrick Homes at 9:35 p.m. Saturday, police were told. A 15-year-old babysitter was talking to the Nancy Howie, mother of the children she was watching, when she heard what she thought were firecrackers. She noticed that the noise was followed by the sounds of breaking glass, so she told the three children to get on the floor of the home. No one was injured in the incident.

Vadalabene offers tips for taxpayers

"April 15, the deadline for submitting tax forms less than a month away," State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), reminds taxpayers while offering them tips on preparing their returns.

"Several new pieces of tax legislation were passed in the last session of the General Assembly of which Illinois residents should be aware when preparing their taxes," Vadalabene said.

The Edwardsville senator also commented on changes which have been made to current tax legislation. "The General Homestead Exemption Act has been increased from $3,000 to $3,500. This bill is applicable on 1983 tax bills, which are payable this year," Vadalabene said.

"Two million property owners in Illinois will be affected by this legislation," Vadalabene said. "The average taxpayer will save $30 in property tax or $206 for the full $3,500 exemption," the senator continued.

"Senior citizens benefit from this legislation two-fold. The General Assembly also increased the Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption from $1,500 to $2,000 per household. Senior citizens are eligible for both exemptions, so in reality, their Homestead Exemption is $3,500," he added.

Vadalabene said the senior Homestead Exemption applies to those people 65 or older who live in a single family home, condominium or cooperative apartments and have property tax liability.

Last year, the exemption provided more than $30 million in property tax relief. The $500 increase adds an additional $16 million in relief.

"The average household will be provided with an added $40 in property tax relief, or $160 for the full $2,000 exemption," the senator said.

"We also increased the Homestead Improvement Exemption in the spring session," Vadalabene continued.

"The improvement exemption is now $30,000, up from $25,000. The average Illinois home will see a $86 savings or, if claiming the entire exemption, will see a $549 savings," he said.

"This exemption was intended to provide an incentive to homeowners who make needed improvements to their property so they won't suffer the penalty of an immediate increase in the assessed valuation of their home," Vadalabene explained.

New legislation which may affect the older Illinois taxpayer is Senate Bill 776.

"Senate Bill 776, which is now law, allows the deferral of all or part of property taxes paid by senior citizens on their homes. To qualify for the deferral, you must be 65 years-of-age or older and have a yearly income of less than $10,000. Deferred taxes will then be paid upon the death of the household members, upon the sale of the home, or by choice of the homeowner," Vadalabene continued.

"We have also passed legislation in the 1983 session which will make sure that Illinois taxpayers who have appealed their taxes and won will receive their refunds within a reasonable time frame."

"Prior to the passage of this bill, Vadalabene explained, "a taxpayer who protested his taxes and won the appeal may have had to wait months or even years in some cases, to receive his entitled refund, because tax collectors were not required by law to withhold any tax protest monies. In addition, no interest on that refund was guaranteed."

"The new law requires that property taxes paid under protest be paid into a protest fund which shall be invested. Interest earned on the investments of the protest fund are credited to it. Thus, taxpayers who win their appeal not only receive a refund within a decent time period but they also will receive five percent interest per annum."

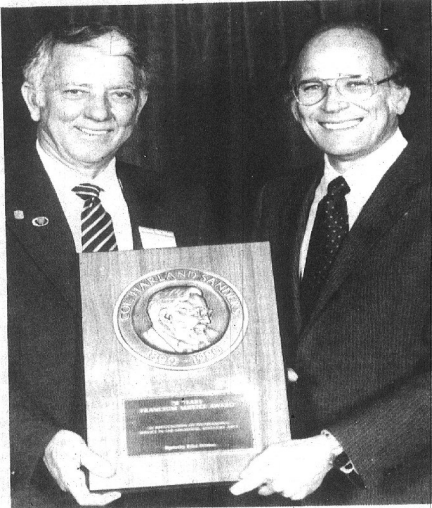

Vadalabene also discussed three bills which directly affect the Property Tax Appeals Board.

"Two House bills were approved which will ensure the Illinois taxpayer of a fair, objective decision when and if they appeal their property taxes before the Property Tax Appeals Board."

"First, the two companion bills make the board a separate entity from the Department of Revenue. Secondly, the board is required to publish an annual synopsis of representative cases each year. Hopefully, this publication will provide direction on assessment/appeal that may be before them."

"The third bill, Senate Bill 142, provides that when a property tax is lowered by the Appeals Board, that reduced tax assessment will remain in effect for the remainder of the assessment period, not only for the tax year the protest was made."

"The members of the General Assembly are constantly looking for ways to alleviate the tax burden for the people of Illinois. But I feel we must go one step further and take it upon ourselves to notify the taxpayers in our districts that these changes which could greatly affect them, have occurred," Vadalabene said.

EMPLOYMENT SURVEY IN THIS REGION THIS WEEK

Questions on current employment, the work experience, and income of household members last year will be included in the March survey on employment and unemployment conducted March 19 TO 24 by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. A scientifically-designed sample of approximately 71,000 households in the U.S., the statistics based on the results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

Confidential information supplied by individuals participating in January's survey reported that 103.2 million out of 112.2 million men and women in the civilian work force were employed, and the nation's unemployment rate dropped 0.2 percent from 8 percent in December.

Purse robbery results in arrest

A robbery charge was filed against Ricky L. Poindecker, 18, of 2910 W. 20th St. on Tuesday after a purse was grabbed from the hands of Brenda J. Bivens of the 4700 block of Warnock Avenue last week at Crossroads Shopping Center.

She had been shopping at Walgreen's and was walking toward a mailbox at No. 19 Crossroads. Hearing someone running, she stepped back to let him go past but a young man took hold of her purse, whose strap was around her arm.

She pushed him and started screaming. As the scuffle ended, she fell against a shopping cart. The strap broke and the robber fled with the purse across the shopping center's parking lot.

Two men who saw the occurrence pursued him on foot between the Gabriel and Central Hardware stores and caught up with a suspect in front of a restaurant at 3717 Nameoki Road. He still had the purse, they and arriving police alleged.

Poindecker submitted no plea at a hearing Wednesday before Associate Judge Nicholas Byron and was transferred at 3:30 p.m. that day to the Madison County jail.

Show studies tax breaks

Tax experts John Tumdarallo of Touche, Ross and Company, Anne-Marie Keller of Arthur Young and Company, and Melvin Bloom of Hochschild, Bloom and Company will discuss recent changes in income tax laws during "Tax Tips '83," an hour-long program on KETC-Channel 9 on Wednesday, March 21 at 9 p.m.

The tax laws, credits, and deductions that affect older Americans will be the focus of a second special, "Your Tax Return: 55 and Older Update," on Sunday, March 25 at 9 p.m. Internal Revenue Service offices will be open to respond to viewers' questions during the broadcast, which will be captioned for the hearing-impaired.

Produced by WQED-Pittsburgh in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, this program will feature discussion on the requirements for filing, the extra $1,000 age exemption for citizens 65 and over, the one-time exclusion of the gain on the sale of a residence for people 55 and older, the deduction of Medicare and premiums, and special tax credits for those with low incomes.

Agreement on Lead

Plaza. Both are located in the 1500 block of State Street near the lead waste pile. Soil on these properties contain high concentrations of lead, state authorities allege.

THE AGREEMENTS do not solve all the pollution problems associated with the Taracorp lead waste pile, according to the office of Illinois Attorney General Neil P. Hartigan, which submitted the decrees to the county for approval.

Hartigan's office was asked to work out the agreements, after the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) found recurring lead air pollution violations near the Taracorp facilities. The company is not admitting liability in the consent decree for the lead pollution problems.

The agreement incorporates control measures contained in the State

Implement Plan (SIP) for Lead being mandated by the U.S. EPA. The Quad-City area has been the only region in the state in violation of the federal lead pollution standards. The plan is intended to prevent possible pollution caused by dust in the air.

THE SIP regulations were outlined in a public hearing Sept. 15 in Granite City. At the time, the IEPA was criticized for not demanding more drastic clean-up measures at the Taracorp waste pile site. The attorney general's office agrees the plan does not address possible water pollution from waste pile runoff or the lead concentrations in soils here that may have originated from the lead pile. The soil pollution discoveries resulted in two rounds of blood tests for selected Quad-City area residents.

"Negotiations to remedy these problems are continuing with Taracorp, Inc. and NL Industries, a previous owner of the lead smelter," according to a statement issued Friday by the attorney general's office. Under the consent decrees, the lead and slag pile must be sprayed by a petroleum or asphalt material capable of containing 75 percent of the dust emissions from the pile. The only vehicles that will be allowed to travel on the pile would be ones involved in the removal of the pile.

BY OCT., the company will be required to fence all of its grounds not presently fenced to reduce wind erosion and prevent public access. The agreement suggests Taracorp gain the cooperation of neighboring land owners to extend the fence around the boundaries of the lead pile, since it extends on to adjacent properties. The fence could possibly be erected on top of the waste pile, if those neighbors fail to cooperate.

Other dust-drawing controls include: the drawing of painted lines to define traffic routes within the plant grounds; the application of asphalt or dust suppressant on all roadways and parking lots; the weekly vacuum sweeping of areas where dust accumulates; the seeding of other unpaved areas and washing of wheels on any vehicle used for material handling, prior to its departure from Taracorp.

Another important aspect of the consent decree is the installation of emissions control equipment by Taracorp, if it decided to reopen its lead smelter processing section. The company shut down its lead smelter operations early last year when it did not want to start up its blast furnace again until it becomes "economically justified" with an improvement in the lead market. As a result, employment has decreased from a peak of 340 jobs to about 140 at the company.

The company has been concentrating on the fabrication of shot, sheet lead and various lead products, while buying lead from other sources.

McCabe charged with rape; bond is $300,000

Jerry Lee McCabe, 29, listed as being from the 3900 block of Central Lane, was apprehended by Pontoon Beach police Friday morning at the Madison County Jail and booked on rape. His bail was set at $300,000 by Chief Criminal Judge Phil Rankin.

In July 1980, McCabe pleaded guilty in Tusculum, Fla., to one count of grand theft and at that time faced up to five years in prison. The plea, which was part of a plea bargaining agreement, dismissed charges of sexual battery, kidnapping, burglary and robbery.

McCabe was convicted of rape in Madison County in 1978 for the Feb. 27 rape of a 20-year-old woman in the parking lot of Granite City High School South, but won a new trial on a technicality.

Swedish firms learn of tax breaks here

Dozens of Swedish business leaders gathered in Stockholm late last week to hear Illinois officials discuss the attributes of establishing an operation in this state. The seminar is part of an 11-day, four-country European investment mission headed by Governor James R. Thompson and the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA).

"One of the things that impressed the Swedish businessmen we've talked with was the Illinois tax climate. Sweden is a country with an income tax that goes up to 80 percent. When they heard that Illinois' personal income tax was going back to 2.5 percent, that it's corporate income tax was 6.25 percent and that we have given back over $1 billion in tax relief in recent years, we got their attention and they were listening," the governor said.

"That, together with the natural advantages of the state, are things that are going to be helpful as we present the benefits of doing business in Illinois to the European business community," he said.

DCCA Director Michael Woeffler said, "To date, 45 of your fellow businessmen are operating in Illinois. All are taking advantage of Illinois' central location, excellent transportation systems and vast resources."

Nearly 50 Illinois business and government officials are taking part in the mission, which will hold similar meetings in France, England and West Germany through March 19. At each stop, Thompson will host an "Invest in Illinois Seminar," where he'll provide an overview of the state and its economy. Also, Europeans who have set up shop in Illinois will provide case histories of their successes and experiences.

In Sweden, Bo Granbom of Origa International Kongsur addressed the group on the company's establishment in 1979 of the Origa Corporation in Elmhurst. The firm makes rodless air cylinders, proximity switches and cutting systems for the paper industry.

"Origa's only U.S. subsidiary is in Illinois and is enjoying success many other companies can share by locating here," Woeffler said. "Mr. Granbom's presence is testimony that Illinois is accommodating to industry."

During the seminar, U.S. Ambassador to Sweden Franklin

Fosberg offered opening remarks. Woeffler then discussed incentives available to locating businesses.

Other speakers included a panel from the Chicago law firm Winston & Strawn on legal concerns of foreign firms investing in Illinois; Carl Sandberg of Gould, Inc. on Illinois' high growth industries; Sidney Roth of Kroner, Brett, Roth & Co. of Chicago on the role of certified public accountants in American business; and Lars Johnson of the First National Bank of Chicago on financial assistance.

State campsights can be reserved

The Illinois Department of Conservation began accepting applications this month to reserve campsites at 17 state parks located throughout Illinois, according to Charles Tamminga, DCC associate director for the Bureau of Lands and Historic Sites. Sites include Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton.

Campers will be charged a $3 fee in excess of the regular camping fees to reserve a campsite. The fee is to cover administrative costs of the program. Campsites can be reserved for a maximum of 14 continuous days between May 1 and Oct. 31.

"People have requested a campsite reservation system for many years," Tamminga explained. "Neighboring states, such as Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan, have had reservation systems for several years with considerable success and few complaints. We're confident that Illinois' program will be equally well received by the public."

Tamminga said the opportunity to reserve campsites should be particularly welcomed by Chicago area campers, who complained in the past of driving for hours to reach a state park only to find all the campsites taken.

"These people deserve a break," he said. "They need to be assured their spot will be available when they arrive at a park, even if it's 10 p.m."

In the past years (and this year at sites other than the 17 selected sites) campsites were available on a first-come, first-served basis.

"This pilot program will test the feasibility and practicality of a statewide system of campground reservations," Tamminga said. "DOC will wait to see what the public response is before whether to extend the program, but I anticipate it getting larger and being expanded to other state parks."

The state parks at which campsites may be reserved for this summer are: Argyle Lake, McDonough County; Chain O'Lakes, Lake and McHenry counties; Ferne Clyffe, Johnson County; Illinois Beach, Lake County; Kankakee County;

Kickapoo, Vermilion County; Lake Le-Aqua-Na, Stevenson County; Lincoln's New Salem, Menard County; Lincoln Trail Homestead, Macon County; Mississippi Palisades, Adams and Brown counties; Pere Marquette, Jersey County; Ramsey Lake, Fayette County; Siloam White Pines Forest, Ogle County; and Wolf Creek, Shelby County.

Persons wishing to reserve campsites may obtain a reservation application by writing the Department of Conservation, Campsite Program, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill., 62706. Reservations also may be made by phoning 1-217-782-6752.

park at least seven days before the reservation date. Confirmation notices will be mailed to the applicants when the reservation is final. The reservation fee is not refundable, unless the campground is closed by DOC. Camping fees at state parks range from $2 for primitive walk-in areas to $6 for sites equipped with showers and electric hook-ups.

Additional funds available for landscaping new center

The $15,926 bid accepted by the Pontoon Beach Village Board last week for blacktopping the parking area at the new Senior Citizens' Center will enable the village to spend more on landscaping around the center than had been budgeted.

The projected cost of the parking lot was $16,133 and Village Board President Paul Bennett plans to add the difference to $6,000 of Community Development money left over from another project for landscaping around the center. "We'll have approximately $9,000 to use for landscaping," Bennett told the council. "I don't know how much landscaping we can do with that money, but we can look into it."

Bennett called for a meeting with the village's Community Development Advisory Committee to discuss the landscaping, saying, "If we're going to do this, we need to do it quick, because the new Community Development funds are distributed in October."

In other business, development plans for Timberlake Manor, a residential development offering log homes in the $50,000 to $60,000 price range, were approved by the council. Building Inspector Ben McMillon reported that the plans showed that "streets, curbs, sidewalks, fire hydrants, storm drains and sewers are in accordance with Illinois department of Transportation regulations" and stated that the only inspection yet unfinished is Illinois Power approval of primary service utility regulations for the area.

Tom Chura, engineer of the final development, reported that the final plat for the 100-lot development north on Highway 111 on the boundary of Pontoon Beach will be presented at the next council meeting.

Council members also decided to draw up an ordinance outlining the annexation of property owned by Fred and Sharon Hartline into the village as SR-1 or single family residence. The council had previously rejected a request for annexation of the property, 4123 through 4125 Division St., under MR-2 zoning, a zoning which would permit the placement of mobile homes upon the property, but unanimously accepted the SR-1 request.

An ordinance establishing the BOCA basic national building code as the guideline regulating new construction, repairs and renovation of buildings and structures in Pontoon Beach also was approved by council members. Discrepancies in previous ordinances, which caused confusion in regulating construction prompted the ordinances to provide the building inspectors with uniform regulations to use as a basis for approval of construction in the village.

The ordinance also outlines permit costs and penalties.

Council members agreed to pay a $25 registration fee for Police Sgt. Jim Denham, the village arson investigator, to attend the National Arson Investigators' meeting in Collinsville, April 15 through 18.

The purchase of a state flag, a federal flag and accompanying display stands also was approved by the council. The flags and stands will replace those which have been stolen or lost. They will be displayed in the council meeting room.

Workshop focuses

The Church Ministers Program at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will sponsor a workshop for men and women in Church Ministry on Wednesday, March 21, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Sister Cecilia Murphy, presently co-director of Parable Conference for Dominican Life and Mission in Chicago, will present the workshop. The objectives of this workshop are to allow Christian men and women—lay, religious and clerical—to examine their attitudes, perceptions, beliefs and feelings about working together in ministry and for an ongoing conversion from stereotypes of contemporary women and men.

The fee of $15 includes registration and materials. Noon lunch may be purchased at the Shrine Restaurant on the Shrine grounds.

Persons interested in information and pre-registration, may contact Sister Mary Ann Peters, 1-397-6700.

FLU CASES
Rising like temperatures

SPRINGFIELD - Winter may be winding down, but flu cases are rising - feverishly - around the state.

Fred H. Uhlig, acting director of the public health department, said influenza-like illnesses are being reported in virtually every one of the state's 102 counties, with a handful of counties cornering the market with not one but two separate flu strains.

Largely, Springfield is the prevalent strain this year, Uhlig said, but Champaign, Clay and Cook counties are also producing identified cases of A-England.

To date, most of the cases are being seen in school-aged victims, Uhlig said, but warned that the flu season in Illinois usually runs through mid-April, "so we may yet have larger outbreaks among adults than we are now experiencing."

Influenza is a respiratory infection, so symptoms do not involve the digestive tract. They do include headache, fever, sore throat, sneezing, coughing and body aches and pains.

There is no cure but time. The best treatment is considered to be bed rest, plenty of fluids with emphasis on fruit juices, and mild pain relievers to reduce fever and ease the aches and pains.

Those with flu symptoms which seem unusually severe, or which persist beyond a few days, should consult a physician, Uhlig said.

Seminar on job seeking

Practical information on finding a job will be offered at the Belleville Area College Placement Office job seeking seminar, Tuesday, March 20.

The seminar will begin at 7 p.m. in the Garden Room at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Ted Lewis of the BAC Financial Aid and Placement Office and Don Ungerott, Illinois Job Service representative at BAC, will conduct the informal question-and-answer seminar.

Participants will learn techniques to use in searching for a job and will exchange information about what does and does not work when job hunting.

Subjects discussed will include sources of information on job openings and placement services offered by BAC and the state. Participants will learn how to complete applications and how to be interviewed.

To reserve a seat, interested persons may contact the BAC Placement Office, 235-2700, extension 288.

SIUE campus is closed for break

Students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are on vacation between winter and spring quarters, March 17 to 23, but offices at the university remain open during the break.

With winter finals completed, several buildings at the university operate on limited schedules. For specific information about building operations during the break period, interested persons may contact the University Information Center at 1-692-2739.

Spring quarter classes begin with Week and University sessions, Saturday, March 24.

Sessions for county teachers

The Madison County Teachers' Institute, an annual event coordinated by the Office of the Regional Superintendent of Schools, will be held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Friday, March 23.

Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent, said all certified teachers are entitled to attend, whether or not they are presently employed.

Public schools in Madison County and some non-public schools will be closed Friday so that teachers may participate in the program.

Dr. Harold G. Shane, professor of education at Indiana University in Bloomington, will be the featured speaker. His presentation will explore "Teaching and Learning in an Information Society."

Dr. Shane is a nationally recognized scholar and author in the field of education. His most recently published book, Educating for a New Millennium, is the result of studies he has conducted on the future and what it holds for education.

Forty small group sessions are planned to provide variety of topics from which teachers may choose. These topics range from computers to preventive health care.

In addition, there will be 60 exhibits of information and materials on new methods of teaching, books, learning tools and audio-visual aids.

"The planning committee for the Institute, consisting of representatives from every school district in the county, was dedicated to the task of developing a quality program that would appeal to the diverse interests of every certified educator in Madison County," Briggs said.

Serving on this planning committee were: Marilyn Law and Steve Payne, Roxana; Mary Smith, Triad; Sylvia Nines, Venice; Betty Bates, Livingston; Loris Ruebhausen and Mary Bergman, Highland; Patricia Winkle and Gerald Webb, Edwardsville; Amy Paschedag and Michael Besant, Bethalto; Donna Clow and James Dumont, Granite City; Tammy Seka and Jacqueline Ehenfeldt, Collinsville; Carol Fogie and Jessie Warren, Ryan; Alton, Richard Brown, Madison; Pat Adams, East Alton Elementary; Jacklyn Willis, East Alton-Wood River High School; Betty Maendele, Wood River Elementary; and Jane Westerhold, Worden.

Representing non-public schools are Brenda Ford of St. Paul High School in Highland and Jane Vieth of Aunt Jane's Childhood Center in Edwardsville.

Members of the coordinating committee whose task it was to implement the plans formulated by the planning committee are: Juanita Gosch and Dr. Stefan Krehniak of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; Troy Cole of the Russell Masinelli, Macoupin County regional superintendent; Briggs and Nancy Krehniak, one of his administrative assistants.

Receiving special recognition on the day's program will be Kathleen Weber of the Edwardsville School District. She was selected as the 1983-84 Illinois teacher of the year.

Also honored will be Karen Agne of the Edwardsville schools, was chosen as the 1983-84 Illinois gifted teacher of the year, and Judy Detering of Troy, 1982-83 Illinois gifted teacher.

For the third year in a row, Macoupin County teachers and administrators will attend the Madison County Institute. Representatives of Macoupin County schools participated in the planning and some will have roles in the institute.

As part of the institute, a Granite City Center seminar and tour are scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at GCC, the 1400 S. 10th St. operated by Belleville Area College.

The presenter will be Rosanna Herren, director of student life and community services.

Secondary teachers, counselors and administrators will hear an overview of student services and the GCC university transfer and career education program. Along with seeing classes in progress, they will observe the kind of instruction used in microcomputer courses.

Donna Clow, a Granite City English teacher, and Lena Rush, a Venice elementary teacher, will chair a meeting at SIUE on mandated studies and graduation requirements.

Charles McCaskill of Madison will help chair a session on merit pay for teachers, while Richard Brown, a Madison counselor, will be one of the chairmen of a program giving updated information on the teacher retirement system.

Brown also will be the chairman of a session on drug abuse prevention activities. Presenters will include the Platte Health Care agency and teachers from Granite City's Maryville School pilot project.

Mrs. Betty Dumont, a Granite City business education teacher, will chair a meeting on word processing. A demonstration will be given and topics will include the word processing cycle, dedicated word processors versus microcomputers utilizing software, and the attributes of successful word processing employees.

Peressia Dandridge, a Venice special education teacher, will be a chairman on language arts management with the voice synthesizer. Demonstrations will include teaching spelling with a synthesizer, drill and practice on a microcomputer, and computer-managed instruction.

Robert Bischoff, a Granite City High School mathematics and science teacher, will speak on computer-assisted instruction. Those attending are being asked to bring ideas, materials, favorite tapes and diskettes to permit sharing of techniques. There will be continuous sessions from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on preventive maintenance and repair of Apple Co. systems.

DONALD W. STUCKE of Granite City retired recently from the Prudential Insurance Co. after 15 years of service. He was an agent in the Company's Alton district office. ### New officers for Parents Without Partners Bill Burns Cafeteria will be the site for the installation of new officers for Parents Without Partners, Chapter 470 of Granite City, last week.

New officers include Bob Young, president; Ray Liddell, vice president; Wally Cook, treasurer; Carol Edwards, secretary; Sherry Swieticki, membership; Helen Bradshaw, adult; Alice Milles, newsletter; Carol Fish, family; Jerry Jones, publicity; Jeannette Powell, community service; Carol Bellman, ways and means; Nettie Glaspie, friendship; Nancy Howie, education; and Arlie Anderson, ethics and grievance.

Appreciation awards were given to former president Wallace Cook and to secretary Marion Watson.

A dance at the Eagles Aerie in Wood River followed the meeting. Single parents interested in joining the organization may contact president Bob Young at 877-0162 or Wallace Cook at 451-0246.

Musical activities presented to PTA

Following a recent business meeting of the Niedringhaus School PTA, the parents were entertained by a presentation of musical activities.

Patricia Dineff, music teacher at the school, explained that the activities demonstrated that night are used at all grade levels at the school. The participants, all from Mrs. Connie Kraus' fifth grade class, demonstrated music reading skills as well as playing music on rhythm instruments and sight singing songs.

Those participating in the program were Ronald Gibson, Becky Hill, Danny Lamp, Eric Mitchem, Michelle Pryor, Paulette Schillinger, Tammy Vinton and Allison Whitmer.

State will keep watch on growth in security offerings

The value of security offerings registered by the Illinois Securities Department during 1983 increased 36 percent to more than $98 billion, Secretary of State Jim Edgar said last week.

"During the year, 3,129 offerings were registered, an increase of 45 percent from 1982," Edgar said.

"The 1983 growth represents an increase in opportunities for investors and reflects the general upward movement of the securities market last year."

"Illinois will remain an attractive investment market in years to come," Edgar forecasts, "due to major revisions to the state's securities law which were passed by the legislature and signed into law last year."

He said the first major update of the securities law in 30 years eased regulations on new securities offerings by removing "unnecessary rules and red tape" on those wishing to sell securities in Illinois. The controversial law goes into effect July 1, 1984.

A review of securities offerings registered during 1983 indicates that oil and gas investments continued to be popular.

"Last year, the value of oil and gas securities registered increased 105 percent to $21.5 billion," Edgar said. "However, these investments also represent one area in which investors should take particular care to avoid unscrupulous or fraudulent deals."

His office is providing consumer protection information on oil and gas frauds as well as other fraudulent securities schemes through "Investor Alerts" issued by the Securities Department in cooperation with the Illinois Better Business Bureau.

Most stocks, bonds and other securities offered in Illinois must be registered with the department, which also registers securities dealers, advisers and salespersons.

Edgar's office registered 944 securities dealers, up 13 percent from 1982. The office also registered 375 investment advisers, an increase of 22 percent, and 32,697 salespersons, up 32 percent.

The department is also responsible for investigating reports of illegal activity or violations of the Illinois Securities Act.

"Under the revised law, the Securities Department will spend less time on regulatory functions, duplicate those at the federal level, and will devote more time and resources to investigating cases of securities fraud," Edgar said in seeking to reassure residents.

Post-Season Analysis

Warrior basketball: Is it on the upswing?

SPORT EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a two-part series on how high school basketball is changing — entering perhaps a different era — in the Quad-City area. This story, focusing on Granite City High School, deals with a redeveloping program — one with an aspiring present and perhaps an even brighter future.

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

With the 1983-84 basketball season over, Granite City coach Don Deterding soon will be straddling his tractor and planting corn and alfalfa this spring. He'll eventually harvest the two crops to feed the hogs and black Angus cattle on his 17-acre farm east of Troy.

"I lose money on it, so I just consider it a hobby," says Deterding with a chuckle. "But it's very relaxing."

Next year, the coach will be observing the growth of another crop — his 1984-85 basketball players. "To me, basketball teams are made during the off-season," says Deterding, relaxing in the kitchen of his modest one-story home. "During the season, we spend a great deal of time on team fundamentals — team movement, team defense, team offense. Most of the individual improvement is made in the off-season."

But I don't do that. I'm going to make them work hard enough during the regular season coaching them the rest of the year. They are going to have to recognize for themselves that they all need to improve in the off season."

Deterding recalls an incident before the last game of the season that pointed out the need for a change in attitude.

"We were talking about Bethalto and they said, 'Coach, what kind of record do they have?' I told them it's not very good."

"And they said, 'What is it?' I told them it's just like ours. They looked at me very surprised. At that time we had lost 15 games and I said, 'Guys, let's face it. We lost 15 games. That can't be considered a good season.' Then somebody said, 'Coach, that's better than 3-22.'"

Granite City North finished at 3-22 last year. Deterding didn't fare

"The most important thing a basketball player can do in the off-season is to get the ball all by himself in the backyard or the gym and concentrate on developing himself. He's just got to work on his weaknesses."

Don Deterding
Warrior basketball coach

much better with Granite City South, finishing at 6-19.

With the two losing teams combined this year, because of the consolidation of the city's schools, Deterding's first objective of the basketball program is to instill a winning attitude in his varsity players. The school's freshman team may be his perfect model.

"A couple of those kids were good enough to play sophomore ball or permanently jayvee ball. I kept them together because I wanted them to develop a winning spirit. They're 20-1 and they do believe they can win. They don't believe anybody can beat them."

Bryan Wilkinson, the freshmen coach this season, assesses the freshmen season in few words.

"Probably, the main reason we won was we had all the main ingredients for winning, with an even balance," Wilkinson says.

"We had guards who could bring the ball down the court and they could also shoot. We also had the height inside for rebounds and our defense was good enough. Basically, we didn't have any glaring weaknesses."

Wilkinson calls the freshmen team "a step in the right direction" towards improving and increasing interest in basketball at Granite City High.

"Whether or not it's the final step is up to them," Wilkinson says. "They can't be content. They have to continue to improve and get better if they're going to win later, as members of the varsity squad."

Wilkinson says he thinks further development will be accomplished by the freshmen squad. "It shouldn't be a problem for them if they work in the off-season," he says. "They've got a good attitude."

That championship spirit is something Deterding thinks the varsity squad needs to improve.

"We've got to develop that winning attitude for the varsity team," Deterding said. "I hope next year they'll think a 10-16 record is a terrible record. Right now they don't."

In addition to the attitude change, Granite City will be having some physical changes. Most importantly, the Warriors will be joining the Southwestern Conference and will be battling Collinsville, East St. Louis Senior, Belleville East and Belleville West twice each season.

The Gateway East Conference folded at the end of the season, with Cahokia garnering the championship trophy.

Deterding also is beefing the team's non-conference schedule. The Warriors will be in the Mount Vernon Holiday Tournament next season instead of the Quincy Thanksgiving Holiday Tournament.

Following year, the team has scheduled to play East Moline.

"I try to schedule the best competition I can find. My basic philosophy is if we're a school of 3,000 and we can't play the best in the state, then we shouldn't be playing basketball. That's my firm belief. You can water your schedule down and win a lot of games, but that doesn't accomplish anything in my estimation."

Enthusiasm for the sport has also increased in the school. A group of costumed fans, well known as the Wardrobers, brought their cheers and sense of humor to the games.

"We did make a step in the right direction. I was very pleased with the attempt that these Wardrobers made to get some enthusiasm. I think it was great and my kids appreciated it because they commented about it."

"The same way that I think the basketball program is going, I think the school spirit in basketball is going. We're running on parallel lines — we're improving."

Deterding says about nine basketball players will be starting a weight program next week. The rest will be busy participating in baseball or track.

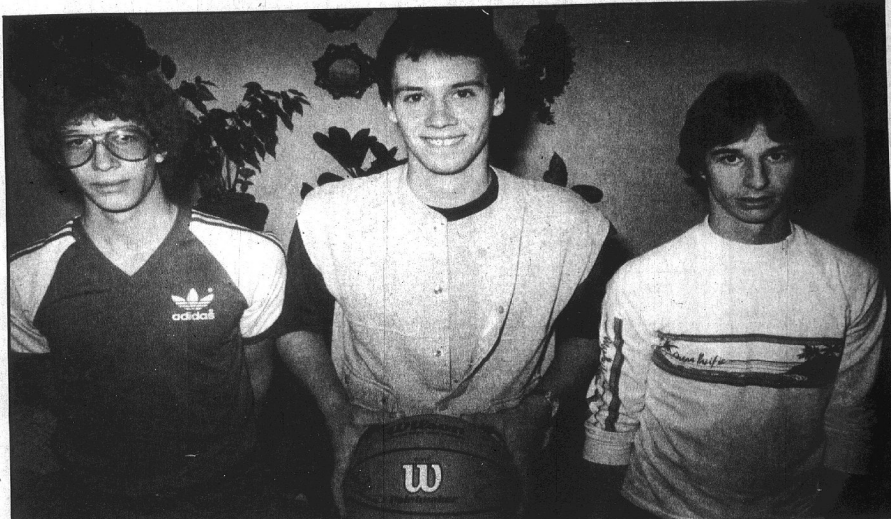

SWINE coaches who prefer their team members to avoid other sports and concentrate on basketball year-round, Deterding says he appreciates players who compete in many high school sports.

"If he doesn't have pride in his high school, he's not going to have pride in his basketball either. I'm a firm believer that if a kid has some talent that he can contribute to his school, then he better be using that talent. An athlete is an athlete — and if he's a good one, he can play more than one sport."

Deterding pauses for a brief moment before adding his clincher.

"But that's not meaning that they can't spend 10 to 15 minutes a day shooting a basketball in their backyard. That's all I ask."

GC'S PRESENT. The immediate future, 1984-85, of Granite City High School's basketball team may lie in the hands of four of its returning starters from this year. Above, Scott Cant is flanked by Jeff (left) and Joe Gray. A fourth starter, Kurt Hylle, is not pictured, because he is recovering from surgery to correct an injury he sustained while practicing. The foursome are figured to be an integral part of the varsity squad again next year as the Warriors enter the Southwestern Conference.

On To Super-Sectional Kahoks defeat Oilers; win sectional

By JIM SCHLUETER
for the Press-Record

E. ST. LOUIS — After the Kahok basketball team whipped Wood River 67-58 to win the East St. Louis Sectional at East St. Louis Sr. Friday night, it was only fitting for the Kahoks to host seniors Mark Welle and Mike Hunter to cut down the nets — they nearly burned them off in the second half.

Welle capped an 11-for-14 shooting performance by bombing in seven of eight after halftime to lead the Kahoks' red-hot second-half surge, and Hunter started that drive with an electrifying stuff on an alley-oop pass with 3:15 left in the third period.

IN MAKING the Sweet Sixteen for the first time since 1978, the Kahoks advance to Tuesday's Carbondale Super-sectional game and will face Benton at SIUC Arena at 7:30 p.m.

Hunter and Welle each scored 22 points to lead the Kahoks, and a hapless Hunter, who pulled down 10 of his game-high 15 rebounds in the second half, was wearing his net in the winners' lockerroom.

"It took us a while to get started, but we figured we could get it going in the second half," Hunter said. "We just started getting it together."

The second half started with the two teams tied at 24-24, and Hunter's slam from "Tony Ellis' job pass broke a 36-36 deadlock as well as putting himself and his teammates on the offensive track they had been looking for all game. He and John Stringer then downed inside baskets, as did Ellis before Wood River's Sean Emerick scored at the buzzer to send the Kahoks into the fourth quarter with a 44-38 lead.

COLLINSVILLE then pushed its lead to 15 points by outscoring the Oilers 12-2 in a stretch that started with a 20-footer by Welle with 6:29 on the clock and ended with a 15-footer by the senior marksmen with 3:59 on the go. That gave the Kahoks a 58-45 lead and had the vocal Kahok stu-

McLeansboro wins title

The McLeansboro Foxes manage to outfox, as well as outscore, Mt. Pulaski Saturday night 57-50 to win the Illinois Class A State Basketball Tournament in Champaign. The Foxes did it by ending the season without a loss and winning 36 consecutive games during a two-year span.

In doing so, McLeansboro becomes the second team in three years to end its season without a loss and clinching the state tournament title. Lawrenceville, the 1982 and 83 state champions, won both of their state championships without a loss. McLeansboro, led by its all-tournament selection 6-foot 8-inch center Brian Sloan who scored a tourney high 35 points, actually breezed through its final three contests towards the state championship, downing Hinckley-Big Rock 64-35 in the quarterfinals and then Lena Winslow 61-39 in the semifinals.

Flora, which beat Madison last Tuesday in the Charleston Super-Sectional, dropped its first round game to Providence-St. Mel.

In Marquette Regional

Trojanettes avenge earlier loss; whip Pioneers

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

ALTON — With 1:13 remaining in the fourth quarter, Madison's Stephanie Walker stood at the free throw line with two chances of putting the regional championship out of reach of the Assumption Pioneers Thursday night.

With the Trojanettes on top 39-35, Walker stood with the ball for a few seconds and stared at the basket. Assumption fans grew tired. "What are you waiting for?" they taunted. "You ain't no pro."

Walker missed both free throws. Assumption later scored with a free throw from Carmette Chalmers to put the game at 39-36.

Walker found herself at the free throw line again with 36 seconds remaining. The fans again gave the Trojanette some shouts of discouragement.

But this time the senior swished both shots. The Trojanettes held a five-point lead and claimed the championship by a final score of 43-38. The victory boosted their record to 20-2.

With the win, the Trojanettes fulfilled a promise they made at the start of the tournament — they wanted to meet and beat Assumption in tourney's finals. Assumption had handed the Trojanettes their second loss of the season and the Madison players had vowed the Pioneers wouldn't beat them again.

Looking at the first half of play, the Trojanettes appeared destined to leave their promise unfulfilled. Assumption jumped to a first quarter 11-7 lead and remained on top at half, 23-19.

Madison coach Carol Cole knew something had to change. While the Assumption players had come up from the locker room and were shooting at halftime, Cole was still giving her players a pep talk. "I told them it was stupid," said Cole. "They were letting this team beat them."

The talk apparently instilled the victory spirit in the girls. Switching to a 3-2 press, with the front half playing man-to-man and the back half playing zone, the Trojanettes forced numerous turnovers. At the end of the quarter, Madison had regained a 29-28 lead.

MADISON was aided in the quarter by Walker, who had stayed on the bench during the first half because of an hand injury she suffered the previous night. Cole had told the senior that she would only be playing if she was needed.

"I definitely needed her," said Cole, wrapping the player's hand with an elastic bandage. "She gave us just enough spark to get us going."

Regina Banks also proved vicious on the defensive press, guarding the player who was tossing the ball inbounds. Her constant shouting and jumping into a spread-eagle position put unbearable pressure on her opponent.

"Her job is to make the pass go high in the air," said Cole. "She was effective."

Banks also finished on top in the scoring department, making seven field goals and one free throw for a final total of 15 points. Not other Madison player made it to double figures.

ASSUMPTION coach Everett Stukeley said his team, which finished with a 12-13 record, lacked the basic skills to keep the halftime lead going in the final quarters.

"We didn't make the power layups," said Stukeley. "When you play the good team, you have to make the easy shots. As the fatigue set in, coupled with the youth, we kind of cracked under the pressure." Six-foot-one sophomore Tamara Tighe dominated the Pioneers inside game, leading her team with 10 points. Close behind was senior Monyee Wright with 14 points, the majority of which were in the first half.

"I told the girls we couldn't let Monyee shoot," said Cole. "We were just leaving her wide open."

BY CLOSING in on Wright, Tighe had to pick up the slack. But beside Wright and Tighe, no other Pioneer scored more than three points.

"We lack consistency," said Stukeley. "The young kids get tired." The Trojanettes, who are dominated by seniors, had the definite experience advantage. Cole knows that if her team is going to vie for the state championship, this had better be the year.

"We've dominated the area for five years," said Cole. "But in the upcoming years, we may be eating crow. I want to go out big."

IN ORDER to do so, Madison will need to improve on its free throws. The Trojanettes made only five of 21 from the charity stripe Thursday. "It's been a problem all year," said Cole. "The other team knew it, too. That's why they weren't hesitating to foul us."

The Trojanettes will face Triad in the Litchfield Sectional tonight at 6:30. Like Assumption, Triad also defeated the Trojanettes in the

TROJANETTE CHAMPS. Revenge as well as the Class A Alton-Marquette Girls' Basketball Regional championship were the Trojanettes last Thursday as they defeated East

St. Louis Assumption to win that regional. The victory was particularly sweet for the Trojanettes as it avenged an earlier loss this season.

regular season, but hopefully, Coles says, the Trojanettes will also avenge that loss as well.

dent crowd chanting "Well-ee, Well-ee, Well-ee."

By then the game was over, as the Kahoks hit enough free throws to keep the hot-shooting Oilers from getting within reach. Then came the awarding of Collinsville's 20th sectional trophy and a ride for Coach Gene Catalpa on the shoulders of his players.

ALL YEAR Catalpa, who won his first sectional in six years at the Kahok-helm, has said his team had as good a chance as anybody to make the Sweet Sixteen despite the Kahoks' less-than-impressive record. He saw the Kahoks improve all year as Wells returned from a well-known skull fracture in early December.

"When the tournament started, we all started evch, and now from the area we're the only team left," Catalpa said. "That makes us No. 1, as far as I'm concerned."

Sheridan wins Army soccer award

The U.S. Army has announced the selection of Matt Sheridan, student at Granite City High School, as the Class of 1984 Most Valuable Soccer Player.

The U.S. Army annually presents its MVP Soccer Awards to the top soccer players in high schools all across the country. The award was presented to the Granite City High School student by Staff Sergeant Ronald Miracle of the United States Army Recruiting Station at 3675 Napueki Road in Granite City.

The U.S. Army sponsors the MVP Soccer Awards as part of its commitment to the academic and physical well-being of the nation's youth. It seeks to inspire high school students to "Be All They Can Be" by seeking total mental, physical and character development.

Last month, Sheridan, a defender for Granite City High School's soccer team was named to the sixth annual Parade Magazine All-America High School Soccer Team.

A 5'11", 160 pound senior, he was selected as being among the top prep players in the country by Parade's national board of collegiate soccer coaches and recruiters as well as national and regional coaches from the United States Soccer Federation.

Bob Guelker, soccer coach of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has announced that registration is now open for his annual Junior Olympic Soccer Camp for boys and girls.

Two sessions are planned, and the first will be held at Parks College in Cahokia, June 17-22, and the second session will be held at the Missouri Baptist College July 15-20. The camps are open to boys 8 through 17 years of age, and girls 13 through 18 years of age.

Registration fee for the overnight camp is $160 which includes meals, lodging, air-conditioned dormitories, instruction of fundamentals, and coaching of team tactics, insurance, and awarding of trophies.

Complete information may be obtained by writing to Guelker, Junior Olympic Soccer Camp, P O Box 9363, St. Louis, Missouri 63117.

In GCHS Girls' Regional Tigers devour Warriors; get first regional title

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — In Class AA regional action Thursday night, the Granite City Warrior girls' basketball team fell prey to a team of hungry tigers — Edwardsville Tigers.

Craving their first regional title ever, the Tigers devoured the Warriors 49-35. Despite the large difference in the score the game was not an easy victory for Edwardsville.

"We didn't have easy wins against Granite the other times we played them so we knew it would be tough," said Edwardsville Coach Sharon Petty.

Nervousness appeared to plague the Tigers in the early going as Granite City pulled to a quick 6-0 lead on baskets by Loretta Cox and Kathy Juhasz. A pair of free throws by Tiger Elaine Onley with 4:20 left in the first quarter were the first Edwardsville points.

"This was the beginning of a brief scoring spree by the Tigers as they scored seven straight points to take the lead 7-6. This lead was short-lived, however, as the Warriors responded with four points to end the quarter with the score 10-7.

Coach Petty contributed the Tiger's early problems to nervousness as well as pressure to win the team's first regional.

"The girls were really tight tonight. They were so excited, no one was thinking. All we heard all day at school today was how the girl's team had never won a regional," said Coach Petty.

"Everyone wanted to do it themselves. It was give me the ball so I can put it in. We didn't start running our offense until the last four minutes of the game.

"We could have blown this. We were sitting there thinking, 'Can we do this,'" Petty added.

One of the main problems that plagued the Warriors in the early quarters was fouling. In the first quarter alone Edwardsville scored five of their seven points on free throws.

"I can't say too much but the fouls beat us," said Galbreath after his team's loss. I don't know how many fouls we had but with three people in foul trouble we must have had a lot of them."

"I have to hand it to them though they hit the free throws when they needed them," Galbreath said.

WITH MONICA Fanning still sidelined with a throat infection, Coach Galbreath was presented with another problem, a lack of experienced substitutes.

"I think it hurt us not to have Monica. She was starting to pass the ball around well and when she got the opportunity she could drive in. She also can hit those outside shots."

"When you don't have an outside shooter the defense pushes back underneath," said Galbreath.

In the second half the Edwardsville defense did just that, putting a stop to the Warrior inside game.

IN THE third quarter the Warriors scored just 10 points. All of those points came from the 10-15 foot distance.

One bright spot for the Warriors in the third quarter was the scoring of Lisa Lilley. Lilley scored eight of the Warriors' 10 points.

Despite Lilley's efforts, the Tigers increased their lead to five points, 33-28.

The fourth quarter was disastrous for the Warriors. Although Debbie Brandt opened the quarter with a basket to pull the Warriors to within three, it was more than five minutes later before Granite City managed another score.

In the meantime Edwardsville was busy racking up points. Eight straight points increased the Tiger lead to 42-30 before Loretta Cox hit a basket for the Warriors with less than three minutes left in the game.

"IN THE fourth quarter nothing went in for us," said Coach Galbreath. "It seemed like they were getting a hand on the ball. But with all our fouls we may have been relaxing too much."

The loss gave the Warriors an 8-14 season record. One which Coach Galbreath says wasn't too disappointing.

"We ended up 8-14. After we had played a couple of games I figured out the schedule and that's what I came up with. 8-14. I didn't pick the exact wins and losses but I figured that's what we would end up," said Galbreath.

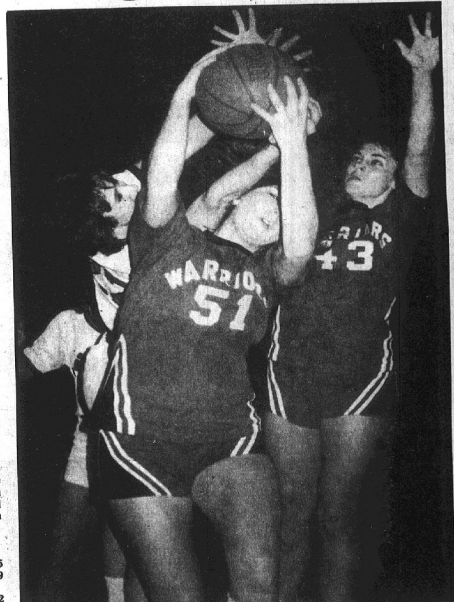

"When we started out I didn't know what to expect, but I wasn't disappointed. I would've liked to have had the win tonight though. It would have really capped off the season."

Edwardsville's win advances it to the Belleville West Sectional where it will meet East St. Louis Lincoln in the first round tonight. The sectional winner will advance to the Benton Super-Sectional.

Motel management finds occupant dead

A manager at the Chain of Rocks Motel, Mitchell, told Madison County sheriff's deputies Sunday night that they found an occupant without signs of life in his room.

Police officials said the name of the occupant is not being released, since his family has not yet been notified. The occupant is said to be a white man, about 30 years old, whose identification has his home address listed in Texas.

Hotel officials said they became suspicious when the man did not answer his wake up call Saturday morning. When they still had not heard from him on Sunday, they checked his room.

Police officials say there were no signs of foul play, but an autopsy will be performed later today.

VENICE WOMAN IS CHARGED DISORDERLY

Sheila Jones, 23, of 311A Weaver St., Venice, was charged by Venice police Saturday morning with disorderly conduct, disobeying a lawful command and resisting arrest.

The charges came after Warren Deboe, of 311 Weaver St., asked officers to remove her from his residence. Officers said they had to use restraint when putting her into the squad car. Miss Jones was confined.

PURSE TAKEN IN STORE

Theresa Goodman, 1733 Edison Ave., told Granite City police Saturday that someone had taken her black clutch from her car while she was shopping at K-Mart. Taken was $20 in cash, her driver's license and $185 in food stamps.

WOMAN INJURED IN TWO-CAR ACCIDENT

Faye L. Hester, 44, of 64 Karen Drive, was injured when her car collided with another car Friday evening near the intersection of Pontoon and Nameoki roads.

The driver of the other car, James Oteary, 25, of Florissant, Mo., said he was eastbound on Pontoon Road and Miss Hester was making a left turn into the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center Parking lot.

ONE INJURED IN TWO-VEHICLE COLLISION

Jacklyn M. Bogosian, 21, of 2570 State St., was injured in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Ralph and East 27th streets Friday.

The driver of the other vehicle was Vince L. Gaddy, 30, of 2625 Benton St., who was driving a construction tractor for Illinois Power Company. Gaddy said when he pulled away from the curb, he did not see the other vehicle and collided with it.

PARTICIPANTS EACH SIGN COMPLAINT AFTER FIGHT

Gary R. Novich, 32, 921 Lee St., Madison, and Dale G. Beck, 48, of 5 Barbara Court, each signed complaints against each other after a fight at Charlie's Restaurant early Saturday morning.

Novich was charged with assault and was released on $52 bond. Beck was charged with battery and was released on a notice to appear in court.

TWO MEN CHARGED AFTER BAR DISPUTE

Martin Shan Snider, 21, of 2017 Fourteenth St., and David Bradley Holman, 23, of 1723 Edwardsville Road, were charged with disorderly conduct and assault by Madison police Saturday night.

Snider and Holman were evicted from the Victory Tavern in Madison and when they went outside, they allegedly started arguing with an off-duty police officer who was leaving the bar at the same time. Holman allegedly swung at the police officer before he was arrested. Holman and Snider were released on notices to appear in court.

TWO CHARGED DISORDERLY AFTER POLICE WARNING

Rickie L. Jennings, 27, of 2828 Grand Ave., and Laura E. Leet, 23, of 2940 Iowa St., were both charged with disorderly conduct by Granite City police Saturday morning.

The two were allegedly having an argument at Jennings' residence when police were summoned. The two were sent on their way, but when police returned later, the two were still yelling at each other. Each was released on $52 bond.

VENICE MAN CHARGED

Joy Pennebaker, 61, of 1042 Third St., Venice, was charged last week with disorderly conduct, after he allegedly hit his 13-year-old daughter and then used abusive language to investigating officers. The reason for the alleged beating was because her room was messy. Pennebaker was released on a $52 cash bond.

FINED IN THEFT ATTEMPT

Timothy Joseph, 21, of 2925 Iowa St., was fined $100 last week for an attempted theft outside the home of Mrs. Robin Waggoner, 2311 Missouri Ave. Pleading innocent to attempted theft, Pamela Murphy, 17, of 2405 Wilson Ave., and Douglas Johnson, 27, Palmyra, Ill., were freed on recognizance bonds pending hearings. It is alleged that an effort was made to remove a motor from a yard.

Madison School Board accepts supply bids

Bids were accepted for first aid supplies and library magazines at the regular meeting of the Madison School Board Thursday night.

Board members approved the low bid from Black Magazine Agency for $1,445. The other bidder, Turner Subscription, New York, bid $1,477.

First aid supply contracts were awarded to four different companies, each winning contracts for the items on which they were the lowest bidder. The companies were School Health, Addison, Ill., Jerry Sports, St. Louis, William MacGill, Addison, and Jerry's Sports Shop, Kansas City, Mo.

Also at the meeting, the resignation of William Jenkins, custodian at the Madison Middle School, was accepted. He had worked at the school for about 10 years. No replacement has yet been named.

State Farm Bureau president to address joint meeting

John White Jr., president of the Illinois Farm Bureau, will speak at the 55th annual business meeting of the Madison County Farm Bureau and the Madison Service Company's 52nd annual meeting Friday, March 23, at the Highland Knights of Columbus hall, starting at 7 p.m.

White was elected in December 1983 as the 11th president to serve the organization since its founding in 1916. White is the full-time executive officer of the organization. He is responsible to the voting delegates who determine IFB policies and to the IFB Board of Directors. IFB president and vice president are elected each year by voting delegates to the organization's annual meeting.

White also is a member of the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation. In addition to his executive role with Farm Bureau, White is president of the insurance and investment companies which make up the Country Companies. He is president of IAA Trust Company and he serves on the coordinating committee of GROMARK, Inc.

White joined the Farm Bureau in 1948. He served as board member and president of the Kane County Farm Bureau and was elected IFB vice president in 1973. In addition to his duties as vice president, White served as chairman of the IFB Tentative Resolutions Committee. He also was chairman of the IFB board's Finance Committee.

White and his son, Joe, operate a 915-acre grain farm near Elburn in Kane County. A graduate of Batavia High School, he attended Iowa State University. He and his wife, Mary Lou, have five children, Cindy, John III, Joe and twins, Mike and Midge.

The business meeting will end at 9 p.m. and there will be a dance following adjournment.

Phone message details value of agriculture to America

March 20 is National Agriculture Day. "It is a very special day on which we recognize the valuable contributions made by America's farmers, and ranchers. It is a day on which we take an opportunity to inform Americans," according to John J. Eckes, chairman of the Illinois Food and Agriculture Council.

In order to increase awareness for agriculture and its contribution to society, Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block will give a message about the importance of agriculture to both children and adults. On March 20, from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m. every hour and every half hour the secretary will speak to elementary school children about agriculture, and at 15 minutes past the hour and 15 minutes before the hour, the secretary will deliver his message to adults. This message can be heard by dialing 1-900-410-FARM. The 10-minute message will cost the caller $3.65.

"The secretary's adult message will be ideal for high school students and also for Agriculture Day celebrations taking place across the country. This will be an opportunity to reach many individuals and groups in both urban and rural communities, schools, clubs, and organizations," Eckes said.

RAIN HAMPERERS VISION AND CAUSES 2-CAR CRASH

Barbara A. Shumate, 25, of 2712 Myrtle Ave., was injured in a two-vehicle accident late last week in the 200 block of Madison Avenue. She was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Her car collided with a parked truck belonging to John E. Inghram, 2540 Parkway Drive.

She said her view of the road was hampered by the rainfall and she lost control of her car. She was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and with having unsafe tires.

STRUCK, KICKED BY GROUP

Walter Hankins, 17, of 2218 Edwards St. suffered multiple injuries last week in the 3000 block alley between Madison Avenue and Iowa Street. He earlier signed a complaint, leading to a person being fined. Angry youths in the latest incident hit him over the head with a pipe, knocking him to the ground, and then repeatedly kicked him.

NO FOID IS CHARGED

Daron Murphy, 24, of Edwardsville, was charged by Venice police last week with failure to have a Firearm Owners Identification (FOID) card and unlawful use of a weapon. He was released on a $102 cash bond.

Amvets Auxiliary 204 aids veterans

Mrs. Pat Hartman, president of the Amvets Auxiliary of Post 204, presided at a monthly business meeting and announced aiding veterans at John Cochran Hospital in St. Louis, and the U.S.O. project located at Lambert Field in St. Louis.

To open the meeting all members repeated the pledge of allegiance and Chaplain Neil Holhouser led the prayer.

Second Junior Vice president Carolyn Gerlach announced that 2,000 canteen coupons were donated to the veteran patients at John Cochran Hospital. It was also announced various snack items were taken to the U.S.O. project and two members worked six volunteer hours at the St. Louis facility.

After registering the roll call of officers and members and the reading of the minutes, Secretary Norma Diak read letters of appreciation from the George Diak benefit dance, from the family of the late Betty Kesterson who was an auxiliary member and from the U.S.O. Center and JC Hospital.

There was about $100 called in for the Variety Club program held during the weekend in St. Louis, according to Kim Obrimski, first junior vice president.

Also, Evadene Graville, senior vice president, reported three auxiliary members, two Amvets members and one non-member spent 65 hours shoveling snow, taking the elderly to the doctors and grocery shopping during the month.

Mary Allen Wyckoff collected $33.50 to be donated to the renovation project of the Statue of Liberty, it was noted.

The president added that $100 and a box of game cards were donated to the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Auxiliary to be used for the patients in the facility.

Proceeds totaling $265 as a result of a quilt fund raising project was donated to Ronald McDonald House in St. Louis, the president explained.

The current fund raising event is pizza sales with the next sale set for April 7. Anyone interested in doing a pizza is advised to call Mrs. Graville at 876-1779.

A bowling tournament is scheduled for March 31 to April 1, in Rantoul, Ill., the president said.

Others attending were Agnes Barunica, Mary Scarsdale, Jackie Bulla, Sophie Derner, Judy Diak, Laurie Griffith, Dorothy Krismantich, Karen Martin, Dorothy Modrusic, Juanita Modrusic, Judy Reeves, Brenda Miller, Jo Leimer, Betty Diak, Leona Stockert, Jane Brewer and a new member, Gloria Hartman.

Refreshments were served later and the closing meditations were given by Chaplain Neil Holhouser. The next general session will convene on April 3.

Prizes were won by Darlene Lakin, Norma Vail, Martha Ropac and Delene Diak.

Also in attendance at the meeting were Margaret Barr, Doris Ross and Jeannette Stefanoff.

Mrs. Niniarec served dessert at the meeting, using the St. Patrick's Day theme as a decorating idea.

The next meeting of the club will be Wednesday evening, April 11, at the home of Melba Morris, Florissant.

Leap year baby born to former resident

A leap year baby girl was born on Feb. 29, at Ullust Memorial Hospital in Greenville, Ill. to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Debbie) Schwendemann who live north of Soronto, Ill.

The new arrival weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces, and has been named Rachel LeAnn. She is the first child for the couple.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Loren Warren Sr., of Reno, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Schwendemann, reside in Granite City.

The new parents were unable to make the trip to the hospital in an automobile so the drive was in a four wheel truck and they also were forced to avoid the normal route to Greenville, due to the snowstorm that hit the area Monday and Tuesday. They found it necessary to travel to Panama and then over to Route 127 which proved the easiest way to the hospital.

GLENN DELEGATES THEN... The campaign buttons and bumper stickers being displayed by former area delegates of Ohio Senator John Glenn may only be of interest to souvenir collectors now, since the senator withdrew from the race. The unity being displayed by the delegates also belongs to the past. County Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus announced Thursday that half the Glenn delegates have decided to represent Colorado Sen. Gary Hart in the Tuesday primary election. The remainder are uncommitted. The delegates candidates and their preferences are: seated, left to right, Jane O'Neill (Hart); Henkhaus (Hart); Helen Hawkins (uncommitted); standing, Craig Donnewald (uncommitted); Fred Painter (Hart) and alternate delegate Dennis Orsey (Hart).

Half of the registered voters expected out

SPRINGFIELD — Almost half of Illinois' registered voters will cast ballots in the March 20 primary election, up from a 39.8 percent average for the last six presidential primaries, according to the state Board of Elections.

The board, which bases its projections on historical voting patterns and trends, predicts a 42 percent to 45 percent turnout.

Several key factors are cited to explain the increase:

- A slight increase in actual voter registration figures, greater absentee voter activity, and the number of contested major races.
- The Democratic presidential primary and related delegate contests and the battle between Republicans and Democrats for the U.S. Senate.

"We expect numbers more in the 1980 primary election range, when 44 percent of the qualified electors went to the polls," said Rex Michaelson, board executive director.

The lowest presidential primary turnout in recent years was 29 percent in 1968.

The board, which makes statewide voter projections in even-year elections for both primary and general elections, has consistently come within two to three percentage points of their projected figure.

Board Chairman Michael J. Hamblet challenged voters to discredit their projections by turning out in larger numbers than ever before. "That is the kind of criticism we could gladly accept," he said.

Charge three as burglars

Court hearings were held in Granite City at 4:45 p.m. Thursday on burglary allegations against Ronald D. Nation, 18, of 3005 E. 23rd St., Steven L. Dunphy, 17, of 2232 Alexander Ave., and William Francis Hoppe, 20, of 4437 Highway 162.

No pleas were submitted. Steps were taken to arrange for their transfer to the Madison County jail pending trial or release on bond.

The arrests by Granite City police followed a break-in at the apartment of Cheryl Williams, 2226 Alexander, March 14. Items taken were a stereo of unknown value and a $40 portable television set.

BATTERY, DAMAGE ALLEGED

Glenda Diane Williams, 24, of 121 Kerr St., Venice, was released on $205 bail Thursday after being arrested early that day on battery and property damage. It was alleged she hit a Geo's Lounge employee, Jennie Szymarek, in the face with a fist and also threw a bottle, breaking several beer glasses. The latter, a resident of 2218 Edison Ave., was booked on warrants from 1982 alleging deceptive practice and crossing a traffic median.

ENTERS PLEA OF INNOCENT

Pleading innocent to a March 6 Granite City property damage warrant, Carol J. Davis, 37, South Roxana, was freed here last week on a recognizance bond to return later for a hearing.

TV programs focus on preparing tax returns

As the income tax deadline approaches, KETC Channel 9 will present two specials to help taxpayers of all ages make it past April 15: "Tax Tips '83" on Wednesday, March 21, at 9 p.m.; and "Your Tax Return: Fifty-five and Older Update" on Sunday, March 25, at 2 p.m.

In "Tax Tips '83," an hour-long Channel 9 production, tax experts John Tumarello of Touche, Ross and Company, Anne-Marie Keller of Arthur Young and Company, and Melvin Bloom of Hochschild, Bloom and Company will discuss recent changes in income tax laws. Viewers will have the opportunity to call in and ask the panel specific questions about individual returns.

The numerous tax laws, credits and deductions that older Americans will be examined in "Your Return: 55 and Older Update." During the broadcast, the Internal Revenue Service offices will be open to respond to viewer's questions. The one-hour special, which will be captioned for the hearing-impaired, is produced by WQED in Pittsburgh in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

Among the tax laws to be discussed are: the requirements for filing (not everyone has to file a return); the extra $1,000 age exemption for citizens 65 and over, the one-time exclusion of the gain on the sale of a residence for people 55 and older; the deduction of Medicare and premiums and special tax credits for those with low incomes.

Deadline Friday for trip to 'Peoples of the Past'

The Cahokia Mounds Volunteers are sponsoring a bus trip Saturday, April 7, to the festivities at the Illinois State Museum in Springfield in conjunction with the grand opening of the "Peoples of the Past," a major new exhibit hall.

Peoples of the Past features four full-scale open scenes depicting the lifeways of Indians during three prehistoric and one historic period. In conjunction with the opening, there will be a series of slide lectures by archaeologists on the Paleo Indian, Archaic, Woodland Mississippian (Cahokia Mounds) and Historic periods, covering 12,000 years of Indian occupation in Illinois.

Activities include demonstrations of flintknapping (arrowhead making) and pottery making, as well as films on archaeological excavation in Illinois. Special activities for children also will be conducted. Participants will be free to attend activities of their choice after a brief tour of the new exhibits.

The bus trip is open to the public on a first-come-first-serve basis at a cost of $12 per person. The bus will leave the parking lot at the Cahokia Mounds maintenance building, 8003 Collinsville Road (next to the Grandpa's store) at 7 a.m. and will return at 7 p.m.

Persons wishing to make reservations may call or write the Cahokia Mounds Historic Site, 7850 Collinsville Road, East St. Louis, Ill., 62201, 344-5265.

Gardenaires study African violets

The annual meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Al Malotki who served a dessert luncheon before the business segment.

Roll call was answered with information on the Saintpaulia plant family that is the house plant of the month. This plant is grown mainly for its flowers and is known as African violet.

Annual reports were submitted by each committee chairman with the president, Mrs. Richard Kerch, noting all projects have been completed for the year and donations made to the stated programs. She thanked each chairman for their cooperation.

The secretary read the call to the 32nd annual meeting of District V Garden Clubs of Illinois that will be held at Holiday Shores club house on Sunday, April 15, at Collinsville, last week. At this meeting the club's history book was presented to the District Awards chairman for judging.

After all other business discussions, Mrs. Kerch read her annual report for the club approval.

Before adjourning, Mrs. Schank installed the officers for the forthcoming year that were the current officers re-elected for a second term.

Mrs. Kerch will remain as president, Mrs. Charles Kohl, vice president, Mrs. C. E. Eads, secretary, and

Mrs. Mary Kristian, treasurer. The next meeting will be held on April 12 in the home of Mrs. Kerch. Present were, Mesdames William Long, Leo Schank, C. E. Eads, John Farrell, Robert Hintz, Roy Hermann, Charles Kohl, Mary Kristian, and those mentioned.

Lung association offers smoking and weight clinics

Hypnosis clinics offered by the American Lung Association of Illinois may offer help to persons who want to quit smoking or lose weight.

Clinics will be conducted by John Greer, president and clinical hypnotist with Breakway Techniques of Ortonville, Mich., on Monday, April 9, at St. John Church of Christ, 307 West Clay, Collinsville.

The Stop Smoking clinic will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by the weight loss clinic at 8:30 p.m.

According to Greer, the clinics help clients to reprogram emotional attitudes surrounding smoking and eating, enabling them to make desirable life choices.

Lung Association officials indicate that hypnotic suggestions have helped people overcome such widespread problems as nail-biting, stuttering, overeating, smoking, forgetfulness and insomnia.

Each participant will receive literature and a cassette tape for reinforcement of suggestions at home.

Persons interested in more information regarding registration and fees may call 344-2526 or 1-217-537-3012.

In-house arrests could replace imprisonments here

By JIM WOODCOCK

Madison County judicial and law enforcement officials unveiled a new statewide probation program Thursday which will put non-violent offenders under "strict house arrest," rather than sending them to prison at the cost of taxpayers.

Judiciary committee chairman Bill Haine told members of the county's personnel and finance committees that the "revolutionary" program will be operated solely by state funding and will add 13 new jobs to the county.

THE JUDICIARY committee recently approved the program, which received personnel and finance committee approval Thursday. The program must be now approved by the county board Wednesday morning.

Haine said several circuit judges are in favor of the program, which will be under the supervision of county Director of Court Services Thurl Jones and the circuit court system. The county sheriff's department would administer the program.

Persons convicted of non-violent Class 3 and 4 felonies could be eligible for the program beginning May 1 if the county board votes to approve the program Wednesday.

Haine said that rather than sending those offenders to prison, a probationary officer would monitor each offender's actions several times each day for the duration of the probationary period.

In order to perform that duty efficiently, the sheriff's department will increase in size by 13 persons, who would be probation officers, supervisors and clerical workers. The state will give the county a 15-month stipend of $273,212 to hire those new employees, as well as provide a raise for several current probationary officers in the county. The new employees will give the county a much-needed improvement in the ratio of offenders to officers in the county, Haine said.

"These personnel will have a post-high school education and be people of ability and guts to bird-dog the criminal element in the county," Haine said.

Jones told reporters that offenders given the probation program will be subject to most of the rules they would have to follow if they were in prison.

Jones said during the first three months of the probationary period, offenders will be subject to a 7 p.m. curfew. If the offender has shown good behavior during that period, the curfew will be extended to 10 p.m.

JONES SAID probation officers will be given additional police powers to ensure that offenders abide by the terms of the probation program. (An example would be that offenders would not need search warrants to find missing offenders.)

Chief Circuit Judge A.A. Mateosian said the program may possibly save county taxpayers $600,000 annually in correctional facility costs.

Mateosian said it currently costs anywhere between $12,000 and $20,000 to send a convicted felon to the Department of Corrections. By implementing this plan, Mateosian said, the state will save itself from having to construct a $60.5 million prison facility.

"THIS PLAN is going to cost the state, but the state will get something in return by keeping these people out of prison and putting them under house arrest," Mateosian said. "It will take a big load off the Department of Corrections."

Mateosian said the program also may be the first step toward a state plan for taking over all probationary programs. Mateosian said that master plan may take until 1994 before it is completed.

County officials said the county may pass a resolution to discontinue the program if it does not like the plan in the future.

The state reportedly hopes to have 30, new probation programs operating by this summer.

Conalco gets training grant

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs has signed a contract with a Madison plant to provide $68,000 in financial assistance to retrain 68 of its employees.

The money comes from the Industrial Training Program and will be used by Consolidated Aluminum Corporation (Conalco).

Such training can be done on the job or in cooperation with an area education center, the DCCA said. The program is funded with state general revenue.

"The Madison facility provides aluminum parts for the aerospace and defense industries," DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfer said Friday.

"It was threatened with closure before labor and management achieved an accord. Part of that agreement included combining skilled trades, and this necessitated the retraining."

"This grant is an example of the ways the ITP can be and is being used to help retain companies, expand plants and attract new firms. During the past year, Illinois has funded training for 3,600 employees throughout the state."

ST. LOUIS MAN IS CHARGED DUI

John E. Bennett, 25, of St. Louis, was charged by Granite City police Sunday morning with driving under the influence of liquor. Illegal possession of cannabis and driving while his license is revoked.

Bennett was found asleep in his car at Maryville Road and Rover's Route. He told police that he started driving home and realized he shouldn't, so he pulled over to the side of the road to sleep.

He was released at 5 p.m. Sunday on $302 bail.

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGED

A 16-year-old Granite City youth was charged with reckless driving Friday afternoon when he drove off a roadway into park district property. He was released on a notice to appear in court.

-Election 1984-

Horton, 30, East St. Louis, and Charles S. Russell, 47, and George "Ted" Farmer, 43, both of Belleville.

Thomas Corcoran's Republican primary race against U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, Evanston, Corcoran, 44, Ottawa, is a congressman.

-DEMOCRATIC Senate competition between Paul Simon, 55, Mankato, Alex Seith, 49, Hinsdale, State Comptroller Roland Harris, 47, Chicago, and State Senate Pres. Philip Rock, 44, Oak Park.

And eight - candidate Democratic presidential competition that has largely dwindled to a tight race between Gary Hart, 47, a U.S. senator from Colorado, and former Vice President Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, 56.

President Ronald Reagan, 73, of California has no opposition in Illinois for the Republican presidential nomination.

There is no State Senate race here this year.

Four-term State Rep. Sam Wolf, 64, Granite City Democrat, is the only one running in the 11th Representative District.

TO CONTROL the General Assembly, Republicans would have to win back four Senate and 12 House seats this year.

Unopposed for re-election are two local Democrats on the County Board, Frank Dutko, 57, Madison, Dist. 24, and Herbert "Junior" Milton, 53, Granite City, Dist. 22.

Those unopposed for Madison County nominations are: Republican Edward L. Braud, a Godfrey medical doctor running for coroner; Richard Allen, 58, Granite City, seeking the Democratic state's attorney nomination; and four incumbent Democratic officials, six-term Circuit Clerk Willard V. Portell, 66, Collinsville, three-term Coroner (Mr. Braud's foe), 57, Alton, three-term Recorder of Deeds Ronald P. Lucas, 45, Maryville, and one-term County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Field, 60, Carbondale.

For offices where no one wins the Republican primary, the party may choose candidates to appear on the ballot in the Nov. 6 general election.

PREFERENCE POLLS, an inevitable accompaniment of the pre-election campaigning, bear out speculation that many of tomorrow's races could be close. Latest soundings show Simon the favorite in the U.S. Senate Democratic primary, with Seith gaining on him. But Mr. Braud and Rock fourth even though Rock has the state party's endorsement.

Increased voter registration in the Chicago area, spurred by the Rev. Jesse Jackson's White House campaign, could aid Burris in gaining an upset victory.

Undecided voters could affect the Senate outcome and also the Democratic presidential sweepstakes, where Hart could surge ahead in the "beauty contest" balloting at the same time Mondale was leading in delegate victories.

WITH 116 Democratic convention delegate positions to be decided Tuesday, both front-runners have been in Illinois, Mondale spending much of his time in Cook County. He already has campaigned locally.

Particularly valuable to the Hart campaign have been survey results indicating he might be able to defeat Pres. Reagan but that Mondale could lose to Reagan.

Adding to the "bandwagon" psychology is the decision of many delegate candidates to switch to Sen. Hart from Sen. John Glenn, even though their names will remain linked to Glenn on the ballot.

-Looting of EOC-

being sent to federal authorities in Chicago for review.

The EOC board of directors voted to declare bankruptcy with the agency, but cannot do that until records can be assembled showing what properties can be disposed of by the bankruptcy court to help pay EOC's numerous debts. Former employees and vendors will have to wait until after bankruptcy proceedings are completed before they will receive any of the money owed them, DeLand said.

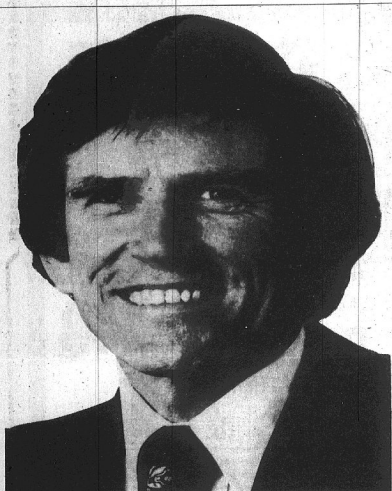

DeLand criticized the board of directors of the EOC for letting the agency's "strong-willed director," Ruben Williams, convince them that he was in control of everything and that state officials and the newspapers investigating the agency were just "picking on him."

He also criticized "local politicians" he would not name who tried to put pressure on the state to ease up on the EOC investigation. After the state found nearly $1 million in undocumented or improper expenditures by the agency, "those people have faded into the woodwork," DeLand said.

Persons in possession of EOC equipment, money or records are urged to telephone 1-217-789-0125 to urge to avoid criminal prosecution, DeLand stressed.

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass types (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions-chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control weevorms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN THAT NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as grass is growing and actually slows down it's feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN you're not getting your money's worth.

... THE GREEN LAWS PLAN provides five sprays — early Spring, late Spring, Summer, late Summer, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain, spurge... Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control in the Spring and insecticide applications in the Summer.

Sen. Gary Hart in Carbondale today

U.S. Senator Gary Hart (D-Colorado) contender for the Democratic nomination in tomorrow's primary election, will hold a campaign stop on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Carbondale this afternoon.

He is scheduled to arrive at the Southern Illinois Airport on Route 13 between Murphysboro and Carbondale at noon today and will hold a news conference before leaving for the campus at 12:30 p.m. He will make an address in the Student Center at 12:50 p.m. and is scheduled to leave the campus about 1:30 p.m.

Radio-TV store downtown looted

Items worth thousands of dollars were taken from State Radio and Television, 1936 State St., during a burglary early Friday.

The loot included four video cassette recorders, two video disc players with an unknown number of discs, a color television set, three portable black and white TV sets, a cash register, a video camera, three radios, a vacuum cleaner and a stereo radio receiver.

An investigation showed signs of forcible entry to the store.

4 CHARGES AGAINST MAN AFTER RETURN TO HOME

Charles C. Haynes Jr., 22, of 6031 Bissell St., Venice, was charged Thursday with criminal damage to property, battery and two counts of disorderly conduct after he allegedly returned to a woman's residence.

Kim Hockerson, 310 Bissell Street Apartments, had called police earlier that morning when Haynes was asked to leave and not return without a police escort. Mrs. Hockerson said that Haynes returned and started, kicking in her door.

DUI IS CHARGED

Scott Teddy Polson, 21, of 1021 Madison Ave., Madison, was charged by Madison police last week with driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs and with careless driving. He was released on $202 cash bond and a notice to appear.

Newspaper investigation leads to introduction of new bill

U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon has introduced legislation aimed at controlling the purchase of farmland by employees of the Department of Agriculture who are in a position to approve or deny loan requests from other individuals to purchase the land.

The bill came in response to Decatur Herald & Review accounts describing instances in which land has been purchased by Illinois staff members of the Farms Home Administration after they had denied farmers' applications for loans to purchase the same land.

Dixon has also called for an investigation of those special cases by the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture.

"Even the appearance of conflict of interest on the part of a public official erodes confidence in a public agency," Dixon said. "We must make certain that the American farmer does not lose confidence in the public agencies that were established to serve the critical problems in American agriculture."

The bill says that "no officer or employee of the secretary (of agriculture) who acts upon or reviews an application... for a loan to purchase land may acquire, directly or indirectly, any interest in such land for a period of five years after the date of which such action is taken or such review is made."

It will be assigned to the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry, of which Dixon is a member.

Rape investigation

Granite City police are investigating the rape of a 21-year-old woman at her home at 4:15 a.m. Wednesday.

She was asleep when awakened by an unknown man who had gained entry to the residence. He threatened her with a knife during the assault.

Possible evidence was assembled by police as part of their response to her 10:30 a.m. Wednesday report.

Lifeline reassures ill, aged

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Lifeline is one of the most aptly named as well as one of the most important community outreach services ever established here, the Granite City Rotary Club is convinced.

The club is one of several financial sponsors of the service, which allows many to live independently who otherwise might have to reside with relatives or at nursing homes.

The bulk of the cost is underwritten by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, whose social work director, Ralph Hausmann, addressed the Rotarians last week. Helping keep the project as inexpensive as possible are volunteers like Joe Lucido, who displayed Lifeline devices at the club meeting.

"Living alone can be difficult when you are older, ill or handicapped. You want to remain on your own but need the security of knowing someone will respond if you need help," the club was told.

"Lifeline is an emergency response system providing 24-hour access to medical and social services. At the touch of a button, a participant can summon help if he or she falls or becomes ill."

"A small wireless pushbutton is worn in a pocket or on a belt. Pressing the button sends a signal through a communicator attached to the telephone. The communicator seizes the line and automatically dials SEMC."

"This system works even if there is a power failure or if the phone is off the hook. A timer signals for help if the person is unconscious or unable to press the emergency button."

"Trained personnel man SEMC's Lifeline response center around the clock to receive all calls for assistance. They phone to find out what the problem is; if there is no answer, a responder is dispatched immediately."

Seminar on legal aid services

The Social Service Network (SSN) organization is presenting a seminar entitled "Introduction to Legal Aid's Legal Services" Friday, March 23, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. at Pascal Hall in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave.

All organizations are being invited to send staff members to learn about the various services of the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation. The seminar also is open to the public.

The cost is $5 per organization for SSN members and $7 for non-members. Organizations can send any number of representatives. The cost for any individual not associated with an organization is $2.50. Reservations are available from Dave Daly, treasurer, Catholic Charities, 1022 Delmar Ave., 877-1184.

THE ZIEBART CHALLENGE

DON'T LET THE CAR DEALER TELL YOU THAT THEIR 'RUSTPROOFING' IS THE 'SAME AS ZIEBART.'

IT'S NOT! CAR DEALERS GENERALLY USE A 'FOGGING' OR OTHER TYPE OF 'QUICKIE' METHOD THAT DOESN'T BEGIN TO COMPARE WITH THE EXCLUSIVE ZIEBART PROCESS.

If you have any doubts, listen to our challenge... Until April 30th, bring us any imitation Ziebart rustproofing and inspect it with us. If it passes Ziebart's rigid specifications, we will reimburse you what you paid for it!

You won't find the car dealer making an offer like that!

If you haven't ordered rustproofing yet, stop by anyway. If we can't convince you that the ZIEBART process is far superior to anything you can get through a car dealer... we'll treat you to a complete interior protection package... FREE... Ask for details.

Q: I've heard heated debate concerning the economic forecast for 1984, and am curious about what generally accepted experts are saying.

A: One of the widely quoted sources of economic forecasting is the Blue Chip Economic Indicators which gathers a consensus of leading forecasters (45, in all). Blue Chip is very optimistic, giving 1984 a highest rating. This, according to the index, indicates the nation's total output of goods and services will increase in excess of three percent. The Index of Consumer Sentiment also holds an optimistic outlook. The Index, which is compiled by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan, reached its highest level in the third quarter of 1983 since its all-time high in 1972. The index reached 91.6 (in contrast to the all-time high of 94.4). According to experts who interpret this index, the third quarter figure of 91.6 indicates consumer spending throughout 1984 should be brisk. These two indicators, taken together, would presage a very economically sound 1984.

Summer teaching seminar to study child philosophy

"It's certainly not like lecturing to short adults," William Hamrick emphasizes, describing how he introduces youngsters from grades three to 12 to philosophical ideas and habits of thinking. In a workshop for elementary teachers and graduate students, June 11-22 at Summer University at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), Hamrick will offer for the first time a course utilizing his insights and experiences.

Philosophy 516, Philosophy for Children: The Early and Elementary School Years will be based on material developed by the Institute for the Advancement of Philosophy for Children, and on methods employed by Hamrick, an SIUE associate professor of philosophy. "This program is in use in thousands of classrooms across the United States," Hamrick pointed out. "In teaching young students from schools in the region, I have found these materials and methods to be very effective in developing those critical thinking skills necessary to our young citizens who are too mature intellectually and cope with change."

THE BASIC method Hamrick uses with children does not involve lecturing at all, he is careful to point out. "We gather around in a circle, and each child reads a paragraph of a story designed to convey a fundamental philosophical idea," he explains.

"Then we question each other as to what point each paragraph is making, gradually working up to an understanding of the complete lesson. It's important that everybody realize that Philosophy for Children is not a fill program for gifted students — teachers in the program work with regular classes and students on every level."

Hamrick recalled a case in which he brought his sixth grade students from Signal Hill Elementary School into his university classroom to show how they were able to handle the same material he was teaching at a higher level. He said the reactions of his SIUE students ranged from amazement to not a little consternation.

THE YOUNGER students are definitely ready for the study of philosophy, Hamrick claims. "When you write 'Philosophy' on the board for a ten o'clock teaching period, the reaction is strongly positive. Hardly that this is hardly a new idea, Hamrick cited Plato's dialogue 'Gorgias,' in which Gorgias chides the great master Socrates for continuing to pursue philosophy, even though in the estimation of Gorgias it is more properly an activity for children.

Hamrick pointed to evidence that the value of the study is not purely conjectural. Research by the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N.J., shows that students who study philosophy improve their test scores in math, social studies, reading and writing. Only in spelling, he said, was there no noticeable improvement.

"This was a healthy sign," he said, "because our system of spelling is irrational. If anything, the spelling figures prove that the test was not skewed in philosophy's favor."

HE ALSO CITED article after article in national magazines and business publications decrying the problems caused by students who are weak in analytical and critical thinking skills.

According to replies to questionnaires recently distributed in local schools, there is sufficient interest to offer this course. The Monday to Friday format of the workshop, with classes running from 10 to 4:30 p.m., was adapted with the needs of interested teachers in mind.

Inquiries concerning Philosophy 516, Philosophy for Children: The Early and Elementary School Years, should be directed to Hamrick at 1-692-3298 or 1-692-2250. Those interested in Summer University may contact Paul Gaston, assistant director, by calling 1-692-3772 or by mail at Box 21, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

Teachers to attend SIUC Taft Seminar this summer

Thirty top grade school and high school teachers from Illinois and Missouri will be chosen to attend Southern Illinois University-Carbondale's 1984 Taft Seminar this summer.

Sponsored by the New York-based Taft Institute for Two-Party Government, the seminar gives teachers a chance to update their knowledge on political matters.

STATE AND national political figures will appear for lectures and discussion sessions during the two-week seminar, whose theme will be "American Democracy in the Two-Party System." It is scheduled for July 22 to Aug. 3. SIUC has been host for the seminar six times since 1973, according to political science professor John S. Jackson III, a coordinator for the event. "This year's seminar comes at an excellent time," said Jackson. "There is growing interest nationwide in helping teachers upgrade their skills, and the seminar is scheduled the week after the Democratic National Convention in San Francisco and a couple of weeks before the Republican National Convention in Dallas."

Jackson said he expects to line up office holders and candidates for the state legislature, Congress and local offices as speakers. PAST TAFT Seminar speakers have included Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson, State Comptroller Roland W. Burris, U.S. Rep. Paul Simon, State Sen. Phillip J. Rock, gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Howlett and Lt. Gov. Dave O'Neal.

Participants will study the role of political parties, the evolution of the party system, and the relationship of candidates to party structure and function. The seminar will be offered for graduate-level credit in political science and education. Scholarships will cover room and board and other costs, but there will be a registration fee.

SIUC is one of 30 national hosts for 1984 Taft Seminars. Information is available from John S. Jackson III, Department of Political Science, SIUC-Carbondale, Ill. 62901, phone 1-536-2371.

SIUE offers classes at BAC this spring

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is offering two undergraduate courses at Belleville Area College this spring.

Students in Management Information Systems will learn to apply principles of systems analysis and systems design to business problems. COMPUTER LITERACY is a simultaneous design and integration of production, marketing and other sub-systems will be discussed.

THE CLASS will meet from 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturdays, beginning March 24 and ending June 10.

Principles of Marketing Management will give students a clear view of the problems encountered by marketing executives. Analytical and evaluative systems that can improve operating efficiency will be emphasized. The course will be on the use of marketing-management factors in markets, products, distribution, price and promotion.

The class will meet from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Saturdays beginning March 24 and ending June 10. For information on prerequisites and registration, interested persons may call 1-692-3210.

Tuition plan provides training for workers

The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corporation jointly have developed a tuition plan that will provide financial assistance for education, training or retraining opportunities for General Motors employees who have been laid off. The tuition plan will allow General Motors employees on indefinite layoff to pursue a college or university program or other training in order to improve their opportunities for re-employment either within or outside the General Motors Corporation.

ACCORDING TO information received by the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from General Motors, the tuition assistance plan provides up to $10,000 a year for tuition and compulsory fees for approved courses at accredited colleges and universities. Eligibility will be determined by UAW-GM officials.

Brochures outlining the plan have been mailed to approximately 65,000 UAW-represented General Motors employees currently on lay-off who have been identified as potentially eligible to apply for the tuition assistance, university officials said.

Additional information concerning the tuition plan may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance by calling 1-692-3589.

Conditioning offered for Senior Olympics

Special arrangements have been made for senior citizens to use the Maryville Senior Center gym in preparing for the Southwestern Illinois Regional Senior Olympics in May. Reba Klenke, coordinator in the Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, announced. Grooming classes will meet at the gym on Tuesdays from 10 until 11 a.m., beginning April 3.

Conditioning exercises, in addition to expert advice in specialized areas of competition, will be offered during the classes. Participants will receive instruction in such areas as golf, putting, tennis, bike riding, horseshoe, table tennis, running, casting, bowling, basketball free throw, swimming and track and field.

SPONSORED by the Southwestern Illinois Agency on Aging and the university, the Olympics are open to people 55 years or older. Registration is $4.50 for in-region participants and $6.50 for out-of-region participants. Regional participants are those living in the Illinois counties of St. Clair, Madison, Monroe, Bond, Clinton, Randolph or Washington.

"The training will be good for senior citizens even if they don't care to compete in the Olympics," Mrs. Klenke said.

To learn more about the Olympics or training exercises, interested persons should contact Mrs. Klenke at 1-692-3210.

GCC hosts college transfer information

Twenty-two colleges and universities throughout Illinois and Missouri will be represented at a College Transfer Program at Granite City Center, Thursday, March 29. The schools will set up booths with information about transferring, admissions requirements and financial aid.

The program will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the center's cafeteria, 4950 Maryville Road, Granite City. The Illinois schools that will be represented include: Blackburn College, Eastern Illinois University, Greenville College, Illinois State University, University of Illinois, McKendree College, Millikin University, Northern Illinois University, Quincy College, Sangamon State University, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, SIUC-Carbondale and Western Illinois University.

The Missouri schools that will be represented include: Columbia College, Fontbonne College, Maryville College, University of Missouri-Rolla, University of Missouri-St. Louis, Southeast Missouri State University, St. Louis University, Washington University and Webster University.

DURING THE three-day conference, delegates may elect to attend some of the more than 140 educational sessions. An exhibit hall containing displays ranging from computers to food service equipment will also be established at the hotel.

Ward said the conference theme emphasizes the application of computers and high technology to college building operations and the higher education area in general.

Peter Gannon, vice president of research for Tockwell International Corporation, will deliver the keynote address, "High Technology and American Society - 1984 and Beyond."

University honors former students

Eastern Illinois University again this year will honor graduates and former students with Distinguished Alumni Awards. Presentations will be made at a special ceremony at Homecoming on Oct. 13, according to Charles Titus, Director of Alumni Services.

Nominations will be accepted through April 16. Nominees should be persons "who have distinguished themselves in academic, literary, business, and professional activities, public service and/or service to the university, and who through their accomplishments and service have brought credit to their alma mater." TITUS SAID the awards, instituted in 1973, are the university's highest non-academic honor. Nominations must be submitted in writing and accompanied by appropriate documentation, including a listing and description of achievements, accomplishments and service.

Nomination forms are available at the Alumni Office. Completed nominations should be mailed to: Distinguished Alumni Awards Committee, Alumni Office, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

Abuse of sick-day benefits

By JEFF BRODY
SPRINGFIELD — Gov. James R. Thompson has ordered state agency heads to set up programs to curb the suspected abuse of sick-day benefits by state workers.

State employees, on the average, use all of the 12 sick days they are granted each year under the personnel code, according to Louis Giordano, director of the state Department of Personnel.

Workers nationwide use an average of eight days per year.

Thompson, acting on the recommendations of a 1978 task force on government cost control, has asked the Department of Personnel to establish reporting requirements for sick days. The system would be designed to give agency managers a chance to identify employees who abuse sick-day privileges.

"There is no specific definition of sick-day abuse," Giordano said. "But we want to be able to find people who take a sick day every other Monday, or people who take a sick day as soon as one is credited to them."

"Accumulation of sick time is a pattern. We give sick days with the thought that employees will accumulate them for use when they are ill. But we have employees who use all their sick days and then must take time off at their cost, when they get sick."

Giordano said Thompson wants to lower the average state employee's use of sick days to the national average, but has set no deadline to meet that goal.

The state estimates that the four-day average difference may be costing Illinois as much as $13 million a year in lost productivity. The anti-absentee program won't require state workers to justify each sick day they use, but examination of an employee's record will be triggered by a failure to accumulate sick time.

ALEX SEITH

Hopes to win Senate nomination

By Jeff Brody
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — Alex Seith likes to tell the story about how his mother ended up in his campaign commercials.

Seith's campaign manager Thor Serafin suggested getting some of Mrs. Seith's thoughts on tape during a break in taping an other commercial, and started suggesting to Mrs. Seith what she could talk about.

"Nobody tells me what to talk about," Seith quotes his mother as saying.

The two commercials featuring Seith's mother have won more favorable comment than any others the Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination has run this year.

They show her reminding her son to remember his working-class roots in Aurora once he gets to Washington.

Seith says he remembers those roots well, as well as the fact that he may be removed as they may be from his current status as a Harvard-educated lawyer for a Chicago law firm.

He says that's why he alone among the four major candidates for the nomination is pushing the concept of tax indexing.

His "Take Home Pay Protector" plan, part of his 1978 campaign platform, called for indexing federal income tax brackets to assure that inflation-driven salary increases would not push taxpayers into higher tax brackets.

That concept became part of federal tax law in 1981, but it is not to take effect until 1985. In the meantime, some Democrats are taking aim at indexing as a way of raising revenues needed to cut down the federal budget deficit.

"The bulk of the Reagan tax cuts went to the rich and to corporations," Seith has said on the campaign trail. "The only real break working people got was the Take Home Pay Protector. As a result, the only way your percentage of federal income taxes could go up would be if Congress legislated a tax increase or if your income went up faster than inflation."

While he has made tax indexing the centerpiece of his campaign in the weeks before the March 20 primary, Seith has stressed other issues as well.

Less able to count on traditional political organizations than the other three candidates in the race — Roland Harris, Philip Rock and Paul Simon — Seith has devoted a considerable portion of his total campaign budget to television and radio advertisements.

And he has personally spent more than $27,000 on his campaign, 85 percent of his primary spending so far.

Another reason Seith has been forced to concentrate on media advertising is the broken ankle he suffered jogging more than a month before the election. Confined to a wheelchair, Seith said the injury cost him more than a week of campaign time.

"It has hindered my mobility, and it takes me a lot of extra time to get around," Seith said. "I have had to substitute group meetings for standing on street corners. And I've become even more conscious of handicapped accessibility problems."

But Seith bristles when he hears his campaign described as a media campaign.

"It's an issues campaign, not a media campaign. The other three candidates all announced they would have big budgets and spend more on media than we are going to spend. That's according to their own statements."

"The mere fact of being on television doesn't mean anything. You have to have something to say. Our ads have simply been more effective, because we've had something to say about pollution, Lebanon, industrial and tax policy."

"And we're trying to prove a 30-second spot can say something positive. We're not just doing a hit-and-run. We're backed up our statements in the commercials. I refuse to say something on the air unless I can back it up with research. What's behind our ads is some solid thinking."

Seith said the issue development of his campaign is based on a conceptual framework of seeking a marketplace that is socially and economically responsible.

"We have been working in contradictory directions. Congress passed tax policies to encourage business investment with the idea of creating jobs, but business has used those tax breaks for paper transactions. We create a 14 percent tax credit for creating jobs, but there are loopholes that allow 100 percent credits for creating jobs in other countries."

Seith points out that he proposed many of the ideas he's pushing this year — tax indexing, a pollution fee structure, state "revenue-keeping" of a portion of federal tax dollars for local use — in his 1978 campaign.

"These ideas stand the test of time, and nobody can say I am taking these views, especially on indexing, simply because my opponents are taking the opposite view. You can look at the record of what I had to say in 1978 and compare it to the record of the past six years."

Seith, 49, now a Hinsdale resident, has tried twice before to win a seat in the U.S. Senate. In 1978, Seith began the race as an unknown, but threatened Percy Foreman with a strong campaign that fell short. Two years later, Seith unsuccessfully tried to win the nomination in a primary contest against Alan Dixon.

While Seith aspires to the mantle of being the "issues candidate" in the race, both Rock and Simon are trying to appeal to voters as candidates with legislative experience who won't need "on-the-job training."

Seith, however, says he can blend ideas and process to become an effective lawmaker.

"I do understand the process, but the essence of the process is working smoothly with people and knowing enough about where they're coming from to be able to address their concerns."

"I had to deal with situations like that when I worked for the Democratic National Committee." Seith served on the party committee that set up the delegate selection process in use now and later on a panel that helped develop a party platform on foreign affairs. In both instances, he says, he had to use the same kind of skills that would be required of an effective senator.

But, he adds, "If you don't have thought-out positions of substance, all the process skills in the world won't help you accomplish anything. You have to be willing to compromise. But if you have a concept of the direction you want to go, you'll know whether a compromise is still moving in the right direction."

Delegate race among most important on tomorrow's ballot

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Quad-City area residents casting their votes Tuesday in the fast-shifting Democratic presidential race will be asked to select six delegates from among 34 vying to represent this congressional district at the Democratic National Convention.

Voters also will be electing two alternate delegates from a field of nine candidates in the primary election.

The winning delegates will voting for their presidential choices at the national convention July 16 to 19 in San Francisco. A presidential preference poll, heading the Tuesday ballot, will have no effect on the number of delegates each candidate will win.

Across the state, Illinois Democrats will select 194 delegates in the Tuesday primary election. Minnesota will be conducting its presidential caucus to select 86 delegates the same day.

While the ballot will hold plenty of choices, Colorado Sen. Gary Hart, one of the two top contenders for his party's presidential nomination, will officially be represented by only three delegates in this district, but three delegates of former presidential candidate, Ohio Sen. John Glenn, have switched allegiances to Hart to give him a full six-delegate slate of candidates Tuesday.

Walter Mondale also will have a full slate of delegate candidates. The only other active presidential candidate, Jesse Jackson, will be represented by five delegate hopefuls.

The other three presidential hopefuls on this district's ballot have already withdrawn from the race. George McGovern announced Tuesday his intentions to drop out of the race and Glenn issued the same statement Thursday. Both failed to gain substantial support in last week's "Super Tuesday" primaries. California Sen. Alan Cranston dropped out of the race after poor showings in earlier primaries.

On Tuesday, the names of all six of those presidential candidates will appear on the already-prepared ballots. The candidates' names will appear in parenthesis behind their delegate representatives. The withdrawn candidates, however, are now uncommitted and may vote for any candidate of their choice at the national convention, if they are successful tomorrow.

Delegate candidates representing Mondale are: Sharon Perjak, Granite City Fourth Ward alderman; Charles Hester, owner of Charlie's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge in Granite City; Buddy Davis, United Steelworkers District 34 director from Wood River; Clyde Jordan, East St. Louis supervisor; Betty Donovan, Fairview Heights, and Sheila O'Malley, Belleville. The two alternate delegate candidates are Marguerite "Peg" Debbelso, East Alton, and Carlton Jones, East St. Louis.

Hart will be represented on the primary ballot by his three original delegates: Nancy and Paul Beckley, a husband and wife, and Larry Moskop, all of Granite City. The labor campaign for Mondale, he also has received the endorsements of the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

Delegate hopefuls for Jesse Jackson are: Tyrone Echols, mayor of Venice; Carl Officer, mayor of East St. Louis; Betty Powell and Karen Hauser, both of Alton, and Robert S. Mosley, East St. Louis. Theodore Thomas Jr. and Jenecé Brown are alternate delegate candidates for Jackson.

The candidates running as uncommitted delegates, since their choices have dropped out of the race, are: Craydon Wilson, Alton; Beatrice Stegemans and Robert Blain, Lenny Eslinger and alternates Charlene Gill and Robert F. Hildebrand, McGovern — Elizabeth Short, Gary Vondrasek, Alex Ducini, Scott Thompson, Cecil Carver Jr. and Ulric Jordan; Glenn — Nameoki Township Trustee Helen Hawkins, Peggy Lewis LeCompte, Craig Donnewald and alternate Alice Meyette; and already uncommitted on ballot — Mike Mansfield, Daniel Nack and Byron LeMaster.

Although the Quad-City area is considered one of the state's most solidly Democratic pockets outside of the Chicago, candidate campaigning here has been hectic. President Mondale, who privately campaigned in Granite City in July, was the only candidate to personally hit the trail here. Others have confined their visits mostly to St. Louis or sent relatives to state their case.

Mondale, the choice of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, also is the apparent favorite of local labor groups, as he appears to be nationwide. In February, he got the endorsement of United Steelworkers of America Local 67, the largest union at Granite City. Steel Division of National Steel, the AFL-CIO members of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council have been busy manning telephones as part of a national labor campaign for Mondale. He also has received the endorsements of the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

In his appearance last year, Mondale blamed "Reaganomics" for the unemployment problem and the tough conditions facing basic industries. He accused the current administration of hurting the ordinary citizen and wounding the country in the arena of international trade.

Mondale, 56, is an attorney who received his degree from the University of Minnesota. He later became attorney general of Minnesota, prior to representing that state in the U.S. Senate for 12 years. He was vice president in the Jimmy Carter administration from 1977 to 1981.

While the nomination of Mondale seemed assured just a few weeks ago, his support has slipped due to the strong challenge of Hart, the only candidate with the strength to defeat the Republican incumbent according to Henkhaus. The treasurer is one of the new Hart delegates who had previously held out high hopes for Glenn.

Hart, 46, who holds a law degree from Yale University and has 10 years experience in the U.S. Senate, was the national campaign director for George McGovern in McGovern's unsuccessful race for the presidency.

Hart worked in the presidential campaigns of John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy, and his politicking style and appeal has been compared to the late president. According to Painter, Glen delegate turned Hart supporter, the candidate represents new fresh ideas. On the other hand, Glenn's messages simply failed to catch fire, Painter said.

Hart may have the formula to control "the monstrosity of the federal government," Painter said. Attorney Orsey, a Hart alternate delegate, is particularly attracted to the candidate's plans to increase military personnel paychecks, while cutting back "boondoggled gold-plated" projects. "He really represents what the (Democratic) party should stand for," Orsey said. Hart supports a nuclear weapons freeze and opposes the MX missile and the installation of further U.S. missiles in Europe.

Jesse Jackson, 42, will be running in his home state this Tuesday under the "rainbow coalition" banner. The Chicago resident has held no public office but has been a major mover in civil rights, anti-poverty groups and farmers' protest movements. He has been involved with Operation PUSH (People United to Serve Humanity), which he founded in 1971, and Operation Breadbasket of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"Even if there's no victory, my personal hope is that he can muster enough support to get the attention of the so-called power brokers — to help the poor people," Venice Mayor Echols, a Jackson delegate candidate, said. The mayor would like Jackson's campaign showing to have an eventual effect on the Democratic Party platform.

Jacqueline Jackson, the candidate's wife, appeared last month in a rally at the Venice Recreation Center. During her speech, she told a small group of supporters that this country needs a president concerned about the welfare of the poor people. She said her husband has demonstrated his foreign policy ability through the release of Air Force Lt. Robert Goodman, who had been held hostage by the Syrians.

Jackson has pledged to stay in the Democratic race, regardless of the outcome of the upcoming primaries.

The Illinois primary will represent the one-third mark of primaries and caucuses for the three presidential candidates in gathering delegates.

REPEAT OF TORNADO DAMAGE. Workers make temporary repairs Friday afternoon to the east side of the warehouse roof at the Shasta Beverage Co. on Missouri Avenue. High winds, which accompanied the storm that ripped through the area Thursday night, peeled off part of the same roof that was damaged by the tornado that struck Granite City on May 1. The most recent damage to the 30,000-square-foot warehouse is estimated to be nearly $100,000. The tornado had caused about $250,000 damaged to the roof.

News notes

U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, who seeks renomination tomorrow, said Friday he will support the U.S. Constitutional amendment for voluntary school prayer when it comes up for a Senate vote this week. Current wording of the proposal, he said, "protects everyone's rights. It permits everyone, but does not require anyone, to pray in public institutions." Percy fund-raising parties totaling 150 were held in homes Sunday night in Belleville and 37 other cities.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency joined several other states and local governments last week in petitioning the U.S. EPA to ban sale of leaded gasoline.

About 4.7 million Illinois state income tax returns are due by April 16. Of this total, 1.7 million had been filed by the first week of March and refunds had been paid to nearly 400,000.

Alex Seith, one of those running for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination, on Thursday endorsed Sen. Gary Hart in tomorrow's Democratic presidential primary. In a debate that night in Chicago, Seith was assailed by Paul Simon and Roland Burris for "flip-flopping" on issues and making "fuzzy statements."

PATIO FURNITURE TAKEN
Gladys Williams, 1020 Calhoun Ave., Venice, told police Friday that someone took a wrought iron table and two chairs from her rear patio.

NO FODD CHARGED TO MAN TOTTING .22 RIFLE
Roy Gordon Drum, 30, of 701 Madison Ave., Madison, was charged by Madison police last week with failure to have a Firearm Owners Identification (FOID) Card after he allegedly pointed a .22-caliber rifle at a Madison man.

Drum was released on a recognizance bond.
